RADIO AND OIL STOCKS LEAD BIG RALLY

Improvement In Money Seen As Buying Generally Heaves Upward

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Stocks of the radio and oil companies led the stock market into another violent rally in prices in the short session today. Radio was the magic word which fired the speculative imagination of stock traders in every part of the country and orders poured in for stocks of companies directly or remotely connected with the new industry.

The spurt in oil stocks which opened suspiciously was continued in full force with the Standard Oil stocks in the listed market and on the curb in the lead and prominent independents in active trading advancing from a fraction to 2 points.

Improvement in Money

The improvement in the money situation was reflected in the 3½ per cent increase in the cash reserves in the New York Federal Reserve bank. Mercantile agencies reported conditions favorable for the continuation of business expansion and business leaders poured forth a volume of optimistic predictions and traders from all over the country rushed in to buy stocks.

With Radio corporation absorbing a heavy volume of profit-taking, attention was concentrated on stocks of other companies manufacturing radio aparatus of any kind. Westinghouse continued its spectacular rise and rose 8 points to 83 in the first hour. Electric Storage Battery gained 5 points at 70¼; Bosch Magneto was up 5 at 53½; Stromberg and Hayes Wheel led the market in the motor accessories and Studebaker in the motor stocks.

General Advance

U. S. Steel sold at 123¼, thus smashing all of its price records since 1917; American Can came to life and marched up 7 points to a record high at 168. At the end of the first hour it was stated that the tape was ten minutes behind the market and that U. S. Steel appearing on the tape at 121, was selling at 123.

Sentiment with respect to the oil industry and the oil stocks has undergone a complete change in the last few days. The enormous stocks of crude oil in storage, instead of being considered a menace to the industry, are held to be necessary to meet the enormous requirements of consumption this year. Standard Oil of New Jersey approximated its 1924 high price record at 42; California Pete rose 2½ points to above 27 and Pan-American Pete sold more than a point higher.

Southern Railway sold above 80 for the first time in its history at the head of the railroad shares which were uniformly strong, though not as active as industrials.

Stock sales today 1,500,900 shares; bonds $6,997,000.

Stock sales for the week 8,460,500 shares; bonds $68,940,000.

Croatian Deputies Held, Communism Charged

BELGRADE, Jan. 3.—Five Croatian deputies were arrested today in the government's campaign to break up the Croatian peasant party, which, it charges, is spreading communism in Serbia. Among those arrested was Vice-President Matchek. Couroulovitch, one of the dismissed Croatian offiicials, attacked Drincovitch, acting minister. The minister drew a revolver, it was reported, but spectators interfered. Couroulovitch was arrested.

Veteran Kills Wife, Son and Then Himself

LONG BEACH, Jan. 3.—Lohman Hogue, a shell-shocked war veteran, shot and killed his wife, Verne Hogue, their 2½-year-old son, Glenn Hogue, and himself, in the hills back of Alamitos, near here today, according to reports received at the sheriff's office.

According to information at the sheriff's office, Hogue yesterday told others that he was going to take his wife and child into the hills and kill them, and today carried out the threat.

Facilities Of N. Y. Exchange Taxed to Limit

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—The facilities of the New York Stock Exchange were taxed to the limit today to handle the flood of buying orders for industrial and railroad stocks which poured in from every direction. The reporting agency, represented by the ticker and tape, was entirely inadequate.

Today's session was one of the most sensational of the long record of busy bullish sessions since the first part of November. Sales of stock reached the total of 1,500,900 shares. Speculators gave their preference to stocks of companies connected either directly or indirectly with the radio business and price gains ranged from 1 to 10 points.

Southern Railway sold above 80 for the first time in its history and New York Central at 120¼ broke all records since 1919 and was within a point of its highest price since 1910.

FASCIST TAKE BOLD STAND AS CENSOR

Outgoing News From Rome Scanned, Newspapers Opposed, Closed

BULLETIN

LONDON, Jan. 3.—There were evidences today that the Fascist administration has set up a censorship on outgoing news, concurrently with the campaign of suppression of newspapers with anti-Fascist tendencies.

ROME, Jan. 3.—"Fascism does not bow to parliamentary manipulations. It resolves to prevent at any price the prevailing reverses which threaten it."

This defiant clause stood out in the Fascist manifesto issued as the Chamber of Deputies reassembled today. A tense situation has developed as the result of internal conflicts between Fascisti and republican and radical elements.

It is possible that permission will be requested in the Chamber for the prosecution of several Fascist deputies who are charged with irregularities in furthering the Black Shirts' cause. The electoral bill is also expected to be presented.

Denial Is Issued

ROME, Jan. 3.—The Tribune today denied the rumor of an impending concentration of 60,000 Fascisti in Rome, with a concurrent mobilization of the Black Shirts. Recent Fascist-Communist friction gave rise to the report.

Called 'Idiotic'

ROME, Jan. 3.—There is no such thing as a Fascist Cheka, or secret police system operating in Italy. Premier Mussolini declared today in the Chamber of Deputies. He said he had not authorized such a police body and that it would be impossible as well as idiotic to organize one. The premier told the deputies that he was appealing for pacificaticn of his country and had no intention of resorting to violence.

Divorce Denied Spouse Of College Professor

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—Mrs. Helen Journey, wife of Professor Cresap Journey of the North Carolina College of Agriculture and formerly of the University of Missouri, was today denied a divorce. Everyone concerned in the case was cleared by Judge Sabath. Professor Journey's cross-bill was taken under advisement of the court until January 13.

South China Leader Is Expected to Recover

PEKING, Jan. 3.—Some promise for the recovery of Sun Yat Sen, southern Chinese leader, was contained in an official bulletin issued by seven foreign doctors called in consultation following his arrival here. An operation was recommended and absolute quiet is to be enforced for the patient.

TEN CHILDREN ARE BURNED TO DEATH

Lose Lives When They Are Trapped In Fires; Damage Is Heavy

MONTREAL, Jan. 3—Nine persons, eight of them children, met death in two fires in north Montreal early today. The fire broke out while the families were still asleep.

A boy and two girls were victims in one fire. A woman and five children died in the second fire.

The dead: Peter Taylor, 0; Freda Nowell, 10; Helen Nowell, 11; unidentified Greek woman; Lionel Brault 9; Rene Thoulin, 22; Cecile Thoulin, 9; Romeo Thoulin, 3; Emilienne Thoulin, 6. The Nowell children were guests of the Taylor children. Both fires are supposed to have been caused by overheated stoves.

Find Home on Fire

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Taylor, parents of the Taylor children, returned to their home about 1 o'clock in the morning, having spent the evening with friends. When they reached the house it was in flames. Taylor rushed inside to rescue the children, but was driven back by the scorching heat. His wife, realizing the impending tragedy, fainted. When the ruins hda cooled the bodies of the children were found amid the ashes of their bed.

Fireman Loses Life

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3.—Walter Connison, 29, a fireman, was suffocated and the Queen Auto Supply Co. and the United States Tire Co. store were destroyed by a fire today with a loss estimated at $600,000.

Two Children Die

TOLEDO, Ohio, Jan. 3.—Raymond, 4, and Bernice Solark, 7, were burned to death at their home at Rabb's Corner near here early today.

J. BULLOCK BUYS MORRISON ESTATE

Eighteen Acres and Large Residence Purchased by L. A. Merchant

Indication of the vast expansion and constant business prosperity of La Canada is seen in a large realty deal consummated today. The magnificent home and estate of eighteen acres, owned by B. C. Morrison, was sold by C. G. Howard, of Montrose, to John G. Bullock, of Bullock's department store, Los Angeles. The consideration was announced as $70,000.

The tract is the third large piece of property in La Canada that Mr. Bullock has purchased, showing his faith in the future of the community. The house and estate are located at the head of Palm drive and it is one of the show places of the La Crescenta valley.

Steel Advances Three Points, Radio Jumps

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—United States Steel jumped to 123¼ in the New York stock market today, an advance of 3 points for the day and a new high record price since 1917. Stocks of the radio and oil companies forged ahead in one of the heaviest waves of speculative activity that has swept over the market since election. Westinghouse Electric jumped 8 points. Oil stocks were strong and active.

King Boris To Win Beautiful Young Princess

BUCHAREST, Jan. 3.—The probable engagement of King Boris and the Princess Ileana of Rumania was announced today by the newspaper Diminesta. The king and princess will meet when both visit Nice in February. Whispers heard in the Rumanian capital before this announcement, made the Princess Ileana a possible recipient of a proposal of marriage from the Prince of Wales.

Boris, the young king of Bulgaria, is the same age as the Prince of Wales. Princess Ileana is the youngest daughter of Queen Marie of Rumania. She is just past 15 and considered a beauty.

BRITAIN SEEKS EQUALITY IN WAR DEBT

England Insists on Like Sum to That Paid by France to U. S.

By DAVID M. CHURCH
For International News Service

LONDON, Jan. 3.—Great Britain will stand firm in its policy that France, in liquidating its war debts, shall pay to England sums equal to those France pays to the United States.

This viewpoint has been "informally communicated" to the United States government, the British foreign office announced today. The attitude of Britain has not been communicated to France or Italy, it was said.

While Great Britain will not demand that France shall consider England a favored nation, it would not refuse to accept such recognition, it was pointed out.

Great Britain does not object to the United States making what terms it likes with France, it was emphasized, but Britain holds itself free to complete arrangements with France independent of terms the United States may make.

"If our debtors pay our creditors," the foreign office statement continued, "we should expect proportionate and simultaneous payments."

Great Britain cannot grant France a moratorium on its debt, it was declared in official circles. Anxious to iron out any differences of opinion existing in the British cabinet, Premier Baldwin will meet with the cabinet Monday to discuss inter-allied debts. It is the aim of Baldwin to have the entire question decided, so far as Great Britain is concerned, before Chancellor of the Exchequer Churchill departs for the allied conference in Paris.

United States Ambassador Kellogg will leave London Tuesday for Paris to attend the financial conference.

Taxi Driver Murdered Running Rum, Belief

STOCKTON, Cal., Jan. 3.—In the belief that his body may have been thrown out en route from Fresno to Stockton, search was being made along the road today for Pete Gentile, missing Fresno taxi driver, whose blood-spattered car was found near the Santa Fe railroad station here. Fresno police, co-operating with the local department in efforts to solve the mystery, told officers here that Gentile was believed to have left for Fresno with twelve cases of whiskey for delivery in Stockton.

STATUTE MILL GRINDING ON NEW LAWS

Vanguard, 46th Legislature, Ready With 300 Bills In Biennial Meet

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 3.—The statute mill operated by the state legislative counsel bureau started grinding out proposed laws at top speed as the vanguard of the forty-sixth Legislature arrived for the biennial session, which opens Monday.

More than 300 bills, resolutions and memorials have been turned out by the legislative mill to date, and eighty-odd lawmakers who reached the city yesterday and today have deluged the state lawyers with "copy" for additional measures.

Thomas Gannon, chief of the legislative counsel bureau, will be assisted in preparation of potential laws by John A. McGilvray, chairman of the state industrial accident commission and former head of the legislative bureau.

Speakership Contested

The 1925 session will get under way at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon with the speakership fight in the Assembly and election of a president pro tem in the Senate as the main attractions. That both contests will be close is admitted by administration and anti-administration forces alike.

Governor Richardson, who has consistently claimed forty-eight votes for Frank F. Merriam of Long Beach in the assembly speakership tilt, today revised his total and claimed but forty-seven. Other administration officials were less confident, restricting their margins to two or three votes.

Anti-administration forces backing the candidacy of Albert A. Rosenshine of San Francisco in the speakership fight held caucus at Hotel Senator early in the day and subsequently announced they were assured of victory. San Francisco's delegation of thirteen in the Assembly is reported solid for Rosenshine with no breaks in ranks expected.

Budget Increased

Legislators who made up the advance guard were also in agreement that the fight between Herbert C. Jones of San Jose and Arthur H. Breed of Piedmont for president pro tem of the Senate would be close. Jones is president of the Progressive Voters' league, and has the backing of that entire bloc.

Breed, who won the coveted position two years ago, is the candidate of the Richardson administration and one of the outstanding champions of the governor's policies.

Governor Richardson was today rushing to completion the bien-

$350,000 Spells Happy New Year for Woman

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—A couple of days ago Mrs. Fred Dato was receiving the customary wishes from friends for "a happy new year." Today Mrs. Dato was positive it would be, for she was notified of an inheritance of $350,000 and an annual income of $25,000.

U. S. Gas Buoy Washed Ashore on Irish Coast

BALTIMORE, Ireland, Jan. 3.—The gale which has swept the coast of England and Ireland for more than a week today had left on the shores of this port an American gas buoy fifty feet in depth, to which was attached two lengths of chain cable strong enough to moor a battleship.

Editor Arrested When Article Lauds Ibanez

SARGOSSA, Spain, Jan. 3.—The governor of Sargossa today held the editor of the Republican paper, La Union, under arrest for publishing an article praising Vincente Blasco Ibanez, author of recent attacks on King Alfonso and the directory.

China's Customs Jump Despite Internal War

PEKING, Jan. 3.—Despite wars and political upheavals, the Chinese maritime customs receipts increased 6,000,000 taels in 1924.

LOCAL POSTOFFICE SETS NEW RECORD

Year's Business Reaches High Mark, Showing 16 Per Cent Increase In Receipts; Gains Another Grade

Figures for the year's business at the Glendale postoffice, made public by Assistant Postmaster George Hallett today, disclose an increase of 16 per cent in postal receipts over 1923. Receipts for 1924 totaled $214,483.45. For 1923 the total was $185,686.61, a gain of $28,796.84 for the twelve months just ended.

The gain in Glendale postal business is regarded as the more remarkable when compared with the gain of 1923 over the preceding year. Receipts in 1922 amounted to $151,339.69, the increase in 1923 being $34,347, only slightly above that registered for the year just closed.

Gains In Grade

During 1924 the postoffice was moved to its new location and eight new regular employes added to the staff. Several increases in service and considerable redistricting has been accomplished.

As a result of the gain in postal business in Glendale, this city's postoffice will be moved up to the eighth grade among first class offices on July 1, 1925, the commencement of the new fiscal year.

This will give Glendale an office that is on an equal footing with any in California. Only the largest cities are rated above the eighth grade, according to Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson, who was informed of the decision to advance Glendale office today.

Sets New Record

Business at the postoffice during December resulted in a new record. According to payroll figures available today, clerk and carrier hire to deliver Glendale's Christmas mail amounted to $18,959. Of this amount, $12,333

FINDS STOLEN BANK FUNDS ON FARM

Long Search Ends When Bond Company Employe Locates Treasure

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 3.—After a seven months' search which extended into South America, Canada and Mexico, S. J. McCubbin, bond company representatives, today unearthed the greater part of the $50,000 bank funds embezzled by Dale Rowan, former cashier of the Bank of Italy, in San Francisco.

In the little town of Bountiful, a few miles north of Salt Lake, centers the climax to this most interesting bank defalcation that has stirred the Pacific coast for many years.

Finds Buried Treasure

Known in Bountiful as J. Williams, Rowan has been living on a little farm he purchased at Bountiful with the Mexican woman, Mrs. Georgiana Brown, mother of three children, with whom he is alleged to have run off after taking the $50,000 from the Bank of Italy.

McCubbin went to Bountiful and to Rowan's farm. He went to a jar in the cellar and there found several thousand dollars in currency. Next the hunt carried him to a garage where several thousand more dollars were found in a bucket hanging from the rafters. Next a shovel was used and in a buried gunnysack was found thousands of dollars in gold, Liberty bonds and other securities.

House Would Protect Memory of Presidents

WASHINGTON Jan. 3.—Legislation designed to protect the memory of presidents of the United States against "malicious defamation" or "slander" was introduced in the House today by Representative Reid, Republican of Illinois.

Along with it, Reid introduced a resolution calling for a Congressional investigation to determine the "truth or falsity" of some of the allegations now appearing in a weekly magazine series of articles on Woodrow Wilson, written by a woman friend.

POSTAL RAISE FAVORED BY COOLIDGE

Compromise Rate Bill Given Okay; Newspapers Win Their Fight

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—President Coolidge today approved the compromise postal rate bill drafted by the joint postal committee of Congress.

His approval of the lower rates adopted after newspaper publishers had protested against the proposed increases, was voiced by Senator Moses, Republican of New Hampshire, chairman of the committee of special sub-committee, which held hearings on the postal bill.

Coolidge Approves

Although the rates agreed upon by administration leaders are not as high as those recommended by Postmaster-General New, with the White House approval, the president told Moses that he believed the new bill was scientifically drawn, and that it would operate to offset the $68,000,000 increase in the salaries of postal employes.

This salary boost had been disapproved by the president unless provisions were made for bringing more revenue into the postoffice department through an increase in rates.

Fair Weather and Rain Predicted Next Week

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—The United States Weather bureau today issued the following Pacific coast forecast for the period of January 5 to 10, inclusive:

Pacific states—The outlook for Washington and Oregon is for unsettled weather, moderate temperature and occasional rains, and for California fair weather and moderate temperature, but with a probability of occasional local rains over the extreme north portion.

ELEVEN IS TOLL LAST TWELVE DAYS; CALL FOR PROBE

City and County Officials To Hold Conference Over Serious Situation

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—The dreaded "sleeping death" from carbon monoxide generated by gas heaters claimed another victim in Los Angeles today when Alexander Coleman, 41, was found dead in his bed. Eleven persons have been killed within the last twelve days by the fumes, despite warnings issued by public officials, alarmed at the situation.

A conference of city and county officials and other persons interested will be called by Mayor Cryer to secure ideas on how to prevent the loss of life by carbon-monoxide-producing gas heaters. Dr. George Parrish, city health officer of Los Angeles, will be asked to attend the conference.

Drastic steps will be taken by officials, it is announced, and a campaign is under way to educate residents in the danger of using faulty heaters, corroded or broken pipes, and failure to leave at least one window open when a portable heater is used.

Save Many Lives

Within the last three days a score of persons have been taken to the receiving hospital in Los Angeles, overcome by the dreaded carbon-monoxide gas. Through prompt action on the part of hospital attendants, their lives have been saved.

Dr. Parrish yesterday conferred with Clifford Johnstone, executive secretary of the Pacific Coast Gas Co., and Claude C. Brown, gas engineer for the State Railroad commission, and president of the California Gas Research association. Mr. Brown suggested that all users of gas for heating purposes have a window open at least three inches at the bottom and an equal distance at the top, to insure proper ventilation.

Cannot Be Detected

Authorities on the subject have found that carbon-monoxide is odorless, colorless and tasteless. Exposure to two-tenths of 1 per cent will cause unconsciousness and death, it has been revealed. It cannot be detected by any of the senses, and the victim has little or no warning before collapsing.

Various civic organizations have started a movement to see that gas heaters in public schools are properly ventilated to insure against any possibility of school children becoming ill.

Men's Club of Tropico Installs New Officers

Officers of the Men's club of the Tropico Presbyterian church were installed last night at a meeting of the club held at the W. C. Perry home, 212 East Palmer avenue. Dr. James F. Winnard, pastor of the Tropico Presbyterian church conducted the installation ceremonies. Officers installed were: James McLean, president; H. E. Fry, vice-president; W. C. Perry, secretary and treasurer. General discussion of plans for the year was held and the following committee chairmen appointed: Fred Dunford, devotional; Sam Brown, membership; H. L. Moody, entertainment. Meetings of the club are held the first Friday of the month and the membership is twenty. All men of the church and of the Tropico district are eligible to membership. Mrs. Perry served refreshments.

Glendale Postoffice Sets Another Record

spent during the last two weeks of the banner month. Sixty extra carriers and clerks were employed during the Christmas rush and managed to dispatch the mails without a single delay or tie-up.

Figures of Mr. Hallett showed that Christmas mail was 20 per cent heavier than last year. The peak was reached on December 24 and 25 when the flood of mail matter reached proportions never before experienced in this city. On Christmas eve 121,000 letters were delivered in Glendale. The greatest number delivered in a single day in previous years was 56,000.

School Board Aids

From December 15 to 24, inclusive, incoming sacks of parcel post mail numbered 3,497; in this same ten-day period 2,933 sacks were dispatched from the city. Cancellations on first-class letter mail alone numbered 580,400. The biggest cancellation day in 1923 totaled 416,800.

The generosity of the Glendale city school board in permitting the use of the Harvard High school gymnasium for a postal terminal free of charge to the government, was attributed as one of the main reasons why, even with this increase in Christmas mail, every package was delivered by Christmas and no delays were experienced.

K. P. TO INSTALL OFFICERS JAN. 6

Deputy Grand Chancellor to Officiate at Ceremony Tuesday Night

Newly elected officers of Glendale lodge, No. 331, Knights of Pythias, will be installed Tuesday night, January 6, at the Knights of Pythias hall, South Brand boulevard and Park avenue. Installation ceremonies of Glendale lodge have been of unusual interest to Glendale members of the Pythian order for years past. Last year the installation was held at Pasadena in conjunction with Van Nuys and Hollywood lodges.

During 1924 a new lodge was formed at Burbank largely through the efforts of Glendale Pythians. Once each month, Burbank, Hollywood and Van Nuys lodge which is followed by return visits of Glendale lodge at a later date.

Edward S. Melzer, deputy grand chancellor will have charge of the installation ceremonies and will be assisted by specially appointed grand lodge officers. Following the installation a select program will be offered including dancing with Kelley's Shrine orchestra and a sketch entitled "Frank Glynn's Wife," by the dramatic club of the Emerson School of Self Expression.

ARREST MANAGER

Glendale police took N. J. Murphy, manager of the Glendale Tavern, 1120 South San Fernando road, into custody today as the aftermath of a liquor raid conducted at the Tavern on New Year's eve. Murphy has been charged with violation of ordinance 999, which prohibits the conduct of a public dance without a city license. According to the police, Murphy was operating a dance but could produce no license when the Tavern was raided and a number of persons taken into custody on liquor charges. Murphy is free on bail pending a hearing on Monday.

AUTO STOLEN

A small touring car belonging to Loyal Unger, 311 North Slycamore Canyon road, was stolen from Harvard street near Brand boulevard some time between 8:10 and 8:40 o'clock last night, according to a report on file with the Glendale police.

A Great Success for Chrysler

One year has elapsed since the Chrysler Six was first introduced to the American public. In the span of that year, the Chrysler has grown from a mere name to a success the like of which has never been known before.

One year ago, Walter P. Chrysler promised a car that would yield new and revolutionary results. Since then, the Chrysler has more than redeemed its pledge.

In compactness and beauty of design, in quickness of response and flexibility of performance, in economy and facility of operation, in power and in stamina, it has satisfied the long-cherished wants of a critical motoring public.

$50,000,000 and upwards has been paid by Chrysler-wild American motor car buyers for the privilege of enjoying these revolutionary results. 32,000 cars have been built and shipped in an effort to fill the demand.

It is therefore fitting that Monday, January 5th, the Chrysler's first birthday, should be a day of celebration—for the Chrysler organization because of the unparalleled success attained in one year's time—for owners and admirers because of the Chrysler's revolutionary achievements.

Speech-Making Class To Start on Monday

A class in practical speech making is to be formed next Tuesday night at Wilson Intermediate school under the direction of the extension division of the University of California. Anyone in Glendale interested in taking up this work are privileged to join the class. The instructor is desirous of having a class of from fifteen to twenty students. Unless the majority of students are from Glendale the class will be moved to Burbank, as many of those attending are from Burbank. H. D. Sherman of 413 North Isabel street can furnish information to prosepective students.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

James McCabe, employe of the city water department, was accidentally shot through the right arm near the elbow by a stray .22 caliber bullet while working in the vicinity of the Southern Pacific tracks late yesterday. The bullet came from a rifle in the hands of a small boy who was playing in the Los Angeles river bed. According to police records the boy was shooting at targets when one bullet went wild and struck Mr. McCabe. The injured man was reported not badly hurt.

FORMER BANDMASTER

T. D. Collins, who is with the Glendale Music Co., 109 North Brand boulevard, and is piano tuner for the firm, was former bandmaster at Ames college, Ames, Iowa. Mr. Collins came here from Phoenix, Ariz., where he directed a 120-piece band during the Liberty Loan drive and was also bandmaster at the Indian school at Phoenix. Mr. Collins accompanied Leopold Godowski, noted pianist of Hollywood, on his first western tour.

MRS. ROWE HOSTESS

Road Assessment Due Before January 18

The time limit for paying city assessments levied for the paving of Sycamore Canyon road expires January 18 and all assessments not paid by that time become delinquent. This announcement was made today by City Clerk A. J. Van Wie, who declared no assessment bills would be sent out and payment would have to be made to the office of Keller-Wattles Co., 304 Pacific Mutual Bldg., Los Angeles, assignees for the contractor.

The city clerk explained that under the law, no mailing of assessment bills is required and that therefore the assessment will become delinquent without any notice to the property owners unless paid on or before January 18. The amount of individual assessments may be ascertained either from the city clerk's office or the city engineer, Mr. Van Wie said, provided the lot, block and tract number is given. All payments must be made to the fiscal representatives of the contractor, Keller-Wattles Co., Mr. Van Wie said.

nial budget of state expenditures, which is expected to show a net total ranging from $95,000,000 to $100,000,000, as against a net budget two years ago of $79,000,000. An unusual jump in fixed charges, expansion of several state departments, foot-and-mouth disease losses and need for additional money to complete capitol extension buildings here were contributing factors in materially increasing the total, it was said. The governor also is working on his message to the Legislature, which will be presented Tuesday or Wednesday of next week.

SURVEY PLANS TO LIST ALL INDUSTRIES

Commerce Body Prepares For General Census as Map for Future Plants

As the first big move in its campaign to bring more industries to Glendale during 1925, the Glendale Chamber of Commerce has completed arrangements for an industrial survey of the city. This survey will commence around February 1. The survey will be made under the direction of M. N. Alderman, peculiarly fitted to do the work because of his more than a year-and-a-half experience in this section as surveyor of Los Angeles and Burbank.

At a meeting of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, members of the chamber industrial committee and Mr. Alderman, the original plan to start the survey was altered. The main reason for this postponement is that business and industrial concerns will not have their year books for 1924 closed and balanced before February 1. It is desired to have all information contained complete to January 1, and for this reason it was decided to hold off mailing of questionnaires until 1924 statistics are fully compiled and available.

Falling in step with Los Angeles city and other sections of the Southland, Glendale Chamber of Commerce undertook a campaign of industrial development some months ago. With the advent of new officers and the commencing of the new C. of C. year, the drive for industries took on greater proportions and an industrial survey was decided upon. The survey was particularly urged by Arthur G. Arnoll, manager of the Los Angeles chamber, who said he could send many industrial plants to Glendale if this city was fully prepared to present "selling arguments" to them and show them in tangible figures the advantages of locating manufacturing concerns in this district.

Advantages Pointed

The industrial survey will not of itself bring industries to Glendale, it was pointed out by Howard I. Wood, secretary of the Glendale chamber. It will, however, become the basis of all promotional work done by the Chamber of Commerce and other organizations in trying to induce plants to locate here. The great

Theological Student To Speak at Tropico

Harold Shafer, who was formerly pastor's assistant at the Tropico Presbyterian church, now attending the San Anselmo Theological Seminary, will preach tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock at the Tropico Presbyterian church. Tomorrow night the choir of the Normandie Avenue Methodist church of Los Angeles will give its Christmas cantata, "The Morn of Glory." There will be no preaching service in the evening, the cantata taking its place. Members of the Christian Endeavor society of the church will serve dinner at 5 o'clock for members of the choir.

LEGION NOTES

Joseph A. Wilson, commander of Glendale post No. 127, American Legion, during 1924, outlined the work accomplished by the local post last year, in a report read by Commander Wilson at the meeting held last night at Legion hall, 610 East Broadway.

Outstanding achievements during the year, Commander Wilson said, were: Boy Scout troops organized and work carried on; officers of Monte Vista and Verdugo Hills posts installed; post's colors at state and national convention, which brought two citations to the post; arrangements for Armistice day and the parade staged under the auspices of the local post, annual banquet held at the Oakmont Country club with Past National Commander John R. Quinn, State Commander Nathan Coombs and State Adjutant James Fisk in attendance; organization of bugle and drum corps; entertainment and Christmas cheer for disabled veterans at Sawtelle; 162 new members added to the post during 1924, bringing the membership up to 363 members; three prizes to the post in the Tournament of Roses, and the efficient work and assistance of the auxiliary.

Chalmer Day, a past commander of the post, presented Commander Wilson with a past commander's ring on behalf of the post.

Newly elected officers of Glendale post were installed at the meeting held last night. Richardson D. White, superintendent of city schools and a member of the post, officiated as installing officer. Officers for 1925 installed last night were: T. Watson, commander; E. W. Gilliland, first vice-commander; W. H. Richards, second vice-commander; Louis R. Black, treasurer; J. H. Allard, chaplain; Ivan Crooker, historian; C. M. Solano, sergeant-at-arms; J. A. Wilson, Glenn B. Mapes, Owen Emery, Dr. A. L. Munger, and Henry Prussing, executive committeemen; W. J. Horstman, H. G. Preston and Carl Waechter, trustees; J. F. McBryde, J. W. Everington and Dr. William Mabry, delegates to inter-county council.

Officers who headed the post during last year were: Joseph A. Wilson, commander; W. S. Reaelin, first vice-commander; E. W. Gilliland, second vice-commander; M. P. Vestal, treasurer.

W. H. Richards, chairman of the float committee, reported on the success of the post in the Tournament of Roses. At his suggestion a letter of thanks will be sent to the following persons and firms for the assistance given in making the float possible: C. S. Dunning, Wilson-Bell Hardware Co., Bentley Lumber Co., Jesse Smith, Coker & Taylor, Arthur Albright, Smith Electric Co., City Council and Chamber of Commerce.

He announced the dismantling of the float would start at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The vacant garage on North Brand boulevard, which served as the Democratic headquarters during the recent campaign, has been tendered by Mattison B. Jones for use in dismantling the float and storing the material.

L. W. Chobe, who designed the float, was introduced. In a brief address, Commander Joseph Wilson thanked Mr. Chobe for his assistance. Mr. Chobe announced that he would assist the Legion in future floats, if the members wished him to work with them.

K. F. Butler, director of the bugle and drum corps, told of winning first prize in the Tournament of Roses. He introduced the members of the corps, and announced the corps would go to Monrovia Tuesday night. Dr. A. L. Munger reported on the progress of the Boy Scout troop sponsored by the post. Henry Prussing gave the auditor's report for the year.

Fifty members of the post will go to Monrovia Tuesday night to take charge of a meeting of the Monrovia post. A large class of candidates will be initiated, and trophies awarded various Legion posts in the Tournament of Roses will be presented. Officials of the county council will be present, it has been announced. Arrangements for a large bus to carry the local legionnaires have been made. It will leave the Legion hall at 7 o'clock Tuesday night.

E. W. Gilliland and E. E. McWain reported on the Christmas boxes taken to the hospital at Sawtelle. Four hundred boxes were distributed in four wards, it was announced.

A vessel so infested with red ants that cyanide was needed to rout them, arrived at an English port from the Far East recently.

Coal output at the mines of Great Britain at times reaches nearly 6,000,000 tons a week.

CONDITIONS IN INDIA ARE DESCRIBED

G. B. Ogden, Missionary, Tells of Floods and Fever In Foreign Land

G. B. Ogden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ogden of 524 West Colorado street, who with his wife and four children, reside in mission fields in India, has written a most interesting letter from his missionary station. Glendale people who met Mr. Ogden and his wife and their four children, all natives of Glendale, when they visited in Glendale last year, will be particularly interested in the following excerpts from the letter.

"The Jumna to the Ganges runs; the Ganges to the sea; and in the times of high water a good many things go along with these two sacred rivers besides their usual burdens of corpses set afloat or ashes scattered upon their waves.

"'All praise to Mother Ganges,' sing the countless thousands who each year and at every full moon wend their way to her banks for the early morning plunge and prayer that will purify them for another period. And so firmly has 'mata Ganga Ji Ki Jai' become fixed in the minds of the simple villagers that in spite of her ravages they still say it. Perhaps it is through fear that unless they keep on singing her praises something more terrible will befall them. But after one has seen the wrecks of villages and the utterly ruined fields that stretch along the Ganges today, he wonders what power it is that makes these destitute people still reverence the river as though she were a benign goddess.

Heavy Downpour

"After our rains had supposedly ended there came one tremendous finish to the season in the shape of about four days' downpour. It covered a very wide area along the foothills of the Himalayas and in some places as much as twenty inches of rain fell in a single day. Of course, so much water coming all at once demanded room for escape. That being denied it, the water simply piled up until it broke the great Roorkie dam (at the head of our canal system for these parts) and a great flood of water came tearing down the Ganges valley. Mere railway embankments were as sand heaps in its way and, of course, lowlands for keeping back the ordinarily high waters were as nothing.

"Such being the case the villages that were in the wake of the waters stood no chance at all. The waters came creeping and then forging up with terrifying rate and people had mostly just time enough to grab a few light things from their poorly equipped homes, tie up a little bundle of grain or coarse flour and rush to the nearest higher elevation or climb trees. In many places friendly cobras also climbed these trees and wrapped themselves lovingly about the arms or legs or bodies of these fellow miserables. In some cases men were seen hanging to branches unable to open their hands after hanging on so long, and their bodies almost completely enwrapped with snakes that had to climb to escape the floods. But I have heard of no one being bit by these snakes. When the waters receded the snakes just uncoiled and slipped back down to the earth and disappeared.

Need Food, Clothing

"The flood passed within forty-eighth hours, but the distress will not pass for months. In many places there are only mud heaps marking the places where once stood humble homes.

"The most pressing need at first was food and clothing. This need our local district government tried to supply. The average Hindu has a great aversion to being considered so poor that he must accept alms. So a great many refused to accept anything even when in great need.

"This is a two crop country. During the summer time their sugar cane and cotton is growing. It was getting well along to the time for harvest when this flood came. Sad sights are these fields

Denis and Shawn Draw Crowds To Auditorium

Capacity audiences have been greeting the appearance this week at Philharmonic auditorium, Los Angeles, of Ruth St. Denis, Ted Shawn and the Denishawn dancers. Their last appearance will be next Tuesday night.

The programs are varied and unique, costumed lavishly and set beautifully. Ted Shawn who has been in Spain and North Africa since leaving here, has brought a bit of each of these fascinating countries back with him in dance drama, costumed and set authentically. There are two Indian ballets with music by Los Angeles composers, Charles Cadman and Homer Grun.

Ruth St. Denis has devoted her life to the art of dance, and in her latest productions the fine spiritual development, seasoned artistry and the poetry of her nature have combined to give a richer, fuller expression than ever before.

Evening News Files Tell Of 1915 Ceremony

Files of The Glendale Evening News for 1915 reveal the story of the fifteenth wedding anniversary dinner given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mattison Boyd Jones, who are today celebrating their silver wedding by announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Winifred Lillian, to Harold Boyd Hershman, son of Col. and Mrs. Oliver C. Hershman of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Friends of the Jones family will read with interest the following story from The Glendale Evening News of 1915:

"On January 3, 1900, at Louisville, Kentucky, occurred a most important happening, when Miss Antoinette Ewell Smith of that city became the bride of Mr. Mattison Boyd Jones, who had just resigned as commandant of the cadet corps and instructor in mathematics at the State college at Lexington, Kentucky, to come to California.

Leave For Southland

Immediately following their marriage they left for Los Angeles and have spent fifteen happy years in this favored section, where Mr. Jones has become widely known as one of the most able lawyers of the Los Angeles county bar and prominent in the work of the Baptist church of the coast, while Mrs. Jones has been very active in club work, being president of the Tuesday Afternoon club of Glendale at present, one of the most active clubs in the state federation.

"Mr. and Mrs. Jones celebrated their fifteenth anniversary most happily at their home, 106 Orange street, Sunday night, when they entertained a few friends with a dinner party. The living room was bright with red carnations and holly berries, while the dining room was decorated in gold and white. The table, at which covers were placed for sixteen, was beautiful with snowy linen, gold and white china and cut glass, centered with a low golden basket of white carnations, while at each place tiny golden baskets served to hold the nuts. The guests found their places by means of cards, hand-adorned in gold.

Huge Wedding Cake

"One feature of the elaborate and faultlessly served dinner was an immense wedding cake, adorned with cupids and a beautiful white dove, while hidden in its delicious depths were the customary emblems of matrimony, industry and riches, usually concealed in a wedding cake. Served with the brick ice cream were favors in the form of golden horseshoes surrounded by white doves.

"Those who assisted Mr. and Mrs. Jones in celebrating the happy occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Toll, Mr. and Mrs. Willoughby Rodman, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Baker, Mrs. M. Ewell Smith, mother of Mrs. Jones, Miss Winifred Jones. Following the dinner the guests were entertained with music on the Victrola and violin music by Miss Winifred Jones, the talented daughter of the host and hostess, while Mrs. Jones, who is a pianist of note, delighted with a selection."

TELL ENGAGEMENT AT BIG RECEPTION

Mr. and Mrs. Mattison B. Jones Hosts On Silver Wedding Anniversary; Announce Daughter To Marry

By KATHERINE V. SINKS
Of The Evening News Staff.

Bel-Air, the beautiful foothill home of Mr. and Mrs. Mattison Boyd Jones, at 727 Kenneth road, radiated charming southern hospitality this afternoon, when Mr. and Mrs. Jones had the happiness of receiving over 600 guests from all parts of California and many other states on the occasion of their silver wedding anniversary, and to announce the betrothal of their daughter, Miss Lillian Winifred Jones, to Harold Boyd Hershman, son of Col. and Mrs. Oliver C. Hershman of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

With bright sunshine flooding hill and valley, hinting more of springtime than of mid-winter, today was an ideal day for the brilliant social event.

In Receiving Line

Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. Jones and Miss Jones, were Mr. Hershman's parents, Col. and Mrs. Hershman, who arrived New Year's day from their eastern home; Mrs. Jones' mother, Mrs. M. Ewell Smith; and Mrs. Isadore B. Dockweiler, Mrs. Willoughby Rodman, Mrs. Gertrude Ross, Mrs. Charles H. Toll, Mrs. Benjamin F. Bledsoe, Mrs. Joseph J. Carter, Mrs. Daniel Campbell, Mrs. Lucius A. Phillips, Mrs. William Elmer Evans, Mrs. Fred Walter Pigg, Mrs. Madison J. Keeney, Mrs. Douglas Longyear, Mrs. George Benjamin Hull, Mrs. Myron Etienne, Mrs. Harold O'Rourke, Mrs. Albert Hays, Miss Gwendolyn Longyear, Miss Katherine Keith.

Many of the guests were unaware of the day's being an anniversary, and many who had attended other anniversary events on this date in the Jones home, had failed to recall the significance of the day. So the disclosing of the marking of the silver wedding and the engagement announcement were happy features for the hundreds of guests received during the afternoon. Music was furnished by the talented Arion Stringed Trio, including Neva Chilberg, violinist; Marion Matthews, cellist; and Enona Hopkins of Glendale, harpist.

Residents Eleven Years

Coming to Glendale over eleven years ago from Los Angeles Mr. and Mrs. Jones have been well known residents, taking active interest in civic affairs and serving as leaders in fraternal and club organizations. With their daughter they comprise a family of social prominence in Southern California.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones came to California immediately following their marriage in 1900 in Louisville, Kentucky. A graduate of the Kentucky State College at Lexington, Mr. Jones was prepared for the practice of law. He was first associated with Willoughby Rodman and Will A. Harris in legal practice in Los Angeles. Success has attended him as a lawyer and today he is well known in California Bar association activities as a member of the firm of Jones, Wilson and Stephenson of Los Angeles. In June Mr. Jones had the honor of being a member of the delegation from the California Bar association in attendance at the international conference in London.

Aids Church Organization

Mr. Jones was a charter member and one of the organizers in 1903 of Temple Baptist church, Los Angeles. He has been one of the leading members of that congregation, an intimate friend of the pastor, Dr. James Whitcomb Brougher, and is president of the board of trustees of the University of Redlands, a Baptist institution.

Many honors have come to this well known Glendalian in his association with the Masonic order. He is affiliated with the York and Scottish rites bodies. He is past high priest of Unity Chapter, No. 116 of Glendale; past illustrious master of Los Angeles Council, No. 11; past commander of Glendale Commandery, No. 53, Knights Templar; past grand high priest of Royal Arch Masons of the state of California; and is at present master of the third veil, General Grand Chapter, Royal Arch Masons of the United States.

Recognition in Europe

While abroad this summer Mr. Jones received signal recognition in Italy, where he was named a member of the national committee of Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite Masons of Italy.

Honors have also come to the Jones family from the activity of Mrs. Jones in club, musical and social life of California. As a graduate of the piano department, of John B. Stetson University, De Land, Florida, and a student at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, Mrs. Jones claims music as one of the dominating interests of her life. It was her love of music that inspired her to organize the Glendale Music club, which she serves as president. Through her appreciation of the finer things in music and her desire to bring those things to Glendale people, she formed a club, that is today nationally known as a musical organization of great talent and broad scope.

Engaged

MISS LILLIAN WINIFRED JONES, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mattison Boyd Jones, whose engagement to Harold Boyd Hershman, son of Col. and Mrs. Oliver C. Hershman of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, was announced this afternoon at a reception to over 600 guests at Bel-Air, the Jones home on Kenneth road.

Tuesday Club President

A life member of the Tuesday Afternoon club, Mrs. Jones served as president in 1913-191[illegible]. Her regime was marked by great progress within the club. There were two departments when Mrs. Jones was elected, and seven at the close of her presidency. Under her leadership the club's advisory council came into being, and beginnings were made in raising funds for the dreamed of clubhouse, which today is a reality. Mrs. Jones also sensed the place for a musical unit in the club, and to her goes added praise for organization of the music department.

Her splendid executive ability won her many laurels during her term as president of the Los Angeles District, California Federation of Women's clubs.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Jones have been vitally interested in the development of Glendale, where they have extensive holdings. Every movement for the betterment of the city has claimed their hearty support.

During the summer just past the Jones family spent many weeks traveling abroad and the reception today gave their host of friends first opportunity to greet them since their return.

Engagement Announced

News of Miss Jones' engagement to Mr. Hershman is an announcement of import not only among her California friends, but in social circles of the east, where the Hershman family is prominent as a branch of the Root family of New England. Miss Jones, a native of Los Angeles, is a talented musician, both pianist and violinist. She is a graduate of Marlborough School for Girls, Los Angeles. It was through friendship with Mr. Hershman's sister that she came to know him. Upon her return from Europe with her parents Miss Jones spent several weeks in the east, being a guest for a month at the country home of Col. and Mrs. Hershman, "Allenhurst," New Jersey. She later accompanied Mrs. Hershman to New York for a visit, motoring back to the Hershman home in Pittsburgh. She was complimented by many social affairs while a guest in the Hershman home.

Mr. Hershman is a graduate of Cornell University. He is engaged in the bonding business. His father, Col. Hershman, is owner and editor of the Pittsburgh Daily Press. With Mrs. Hershman he has come to winter in California, having purchased a winter home on Windsor boulevard, Los Angeles.

No date has been set for the marriage of Miss Jones and Mr. Hershman, but it is probable that it will not take place until late this year. Miss Jones is destined as honoree at many delightful social affairs before her wedding, which will be an event keenly anticipated.

ORGANIZATION OF CHURCH SUNDAY

Impressive Ceremonies Are Planned for Tomorrow At Grand View

Organization of the Grand View Community Presbyterian church will take place tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. Dr. Guy W. Wadsworth, executive secretary of the Los Angeles board of church extension will preside. Dr. William S. Young, stated clerk of the Los Angeles Presbytery, will deliver the sermon. Rev. C. R. McMillin, Sunday school missionary for Southern California, will read the scripture and take part in the service.

Dr. Wadsworth, with the pastor, Rev. George W. Thomas, will be at the Grand View school house during the Sunday school hour from 9:30 o'clock to 1 o'clock to meet all who may wish to unite with the church by letter or upon profession of faith. All church members in the community who have letters and wish to share the honor and privilege of the charter membership are invited to this interview.

Elect Elders

As soon as the church is organized, elders will be elected, ordained and installed and a call issued for the congregational meeting of the new church, when the new church will hold its first communion. The elements for communion are prepared by Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Holt and the communion instruments are from the Glendale Presbyterian church.

Infant and adult baptisms will take place and the membership of the church will number over seventy. Young people will meet tomorrow night at 6:30 o'clock to talk over plans for an organization and to practice for the Junior choir. The night service will begin at 7:30 o'clock with a half hour of fellowship and song. Rev. Thomas will take as his subject, "The Open Door," from Revelation 3:8-13.

Preparatory Service

The preparatory service held at the church Wednesday night was well attended. Rev. Thomas, pastor, conducted a short devotional service after which Dr. Wadsworth told of the necessary preliminary

MUSIC LOVERS TO HONOR MRS. JONES

Reception Planned Following Eva Gauthier's Recital Tuesday Night

Glendale Music club members will honor their founder and president, Mrs. Mattison Boyd Jones, with a reception following the Gauthier concert Tuesday night at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. Original plans were for holding the reception at the time Mrs. Jones returned from abroad, but, owing to her illness, plans were changed. Miss Gauthier will be present.

Glendale music lovers who are anticipating Miss Gauthier's appearance will be interested in what a New York critic said following an eastern concert: "Good old American jazz entered the front door of a classic concert room last night, when Eva Gauthier gave her annual recital in Aeolian hall. The audience, the fashionable sort that usually listens with rapt attention and applauds discreetly, actually kept time with swaying heads, laughed with delight at the familiar words of 'Alexander's Ragtime Band,' and shouted and cheered when the last syncopated measure was fairly thumped on the piano. Miss Gauthier was treated like a heroine and a patriot. The jazz songs were not the only novelties on the list. Miss Gauthier, gowned in a clinging black velvet and wearing earrings the size of her hands, sang unusual old English songs and groups of modern Hungarian."

Included in the Glendale program will be "Alexander's Ragtime Band," "Carolina in the Morning" and "Swanee." Tickets for non-clubmembers can be secured at Roberts & Echols' drug store and at the Glendale Music Co.

Evening News Is Thanked By College Club

New Year greetings to The Glendale Evening News have come from Mrs. Frank W. Parr, president of the College Women's club. She wrote:

"I am very happy to send sincere wishes for a happy New Year from the College Women's club of Glendale. We wish to thank you at this time for your valuable assistance in rendering such excellent publicity service to us. With all good wishes."

Daily Greeting to News Readers

Our true knowledge is to know our own ignorance. Our true strength is to know our own weakness. Our true dignity is to confess that we have no dignity, and are nobody and nothing in ourselves, and to cast ourselves down before the dignity of God, under the shadow of whose wings, and in the smile of whose countenance, alone, is any created being safe. Let us cling to our Father in Heaven, as a child, walking in the night, clings to his father's hand.—Charles Kingsley.

THE 'SINGLE' TAX

Every once in a while some one comes forward with the highly original suggestion that bachelors and spinsters should be taxed. This time it is Dr. S. Parks Cadman, one of New York's prominent divines who says that unmarried men and women should be made to pay for their freedom; that domestic bliss is the most permanent blessing known; that marriage is the coronation of human experience. Men and women of middle age, he says, who prefer the false happiness of single blessedness to the sweet responsibilities of a family ought to be made to pay.

This distinguished divine rather contradicts himself when he says spinsters and bachelors should be made to pay for their freedom. Marriage is such a desirable state that those who are married should pay the tax and not those who are deprived of its joys. And what about the poor young man who wastes reams of paper trying to make the high cost of rent and gasoline and lip sticks balance with his modest salary? And what of the girls who have never had a proposal? Are they to propose or should they be exempt from the tax? But, of course, this would work a hardship, as no girl would ever confess that she had never been asked to marry.

Marriage today is a rather formidable undertaking for a man in view of the demands made upon the head of the family. And, while the heart and not the head should rule in matters of this nature, the one who rushes into matrimony without any prospects of being able to support a family is sometimes more of an enemy to society than the one who looks only at the practical side of marriage, and remains single.

THE WEST IN CONGRESS

When the next Congress convenes, the west, comprising the Mississippi valley, the Rocky mountain and the Pacific coast states, will, for the first time, hold the power of Congress. Heretofore the New England and southern states have made a practice of keeping men in Congress, once they have been tried and found acceptable. Consequently, the seniority rule has given the big chairmanships, and with them, control over Congress, to the eastern section of the country.

But, when the new Congress convenes, Senator Borah of Idaho will be chairman of the foreign relations committee, succeeding the late Senator Lodge of Massachusetts. Senator Cummins of Iowa will be chairman of the judiciary committee, filling the place made vacant by the death of Senator Brandegee of Connecticut, unless he should prefer to remain chairman of the Interstate Commerce committee, in which case the judiciary chairmanship will go to Ernst of Kentucky.

Norris of Nebraska will be chairman of agriculture; Warren of Wyoming, appropriations; Capper of Kansas, claims; Jones of Washington, commerce; Smoot of Utah, finance; Hareld of Oklahoma, Indian affairs; McNary of Oregon, irrigation and reclamation.

AMERICAN SELF-CONTROL

The foreign language press of the country, it is reported, notes with awe the peaceful results of the late election. They express surprise that the returns have been accepted by all in the spirit of good sportsmanship, evidenced by the remark of one prominent Democrat, who said, "I am still a Democrat, but mighty still," and that those who voted for candidates on the losing side bear no ill will and are apparently as cheerful as those on the victorious side.

This, after all, is the real reason for the success of democracy in the United States. It is a characteristic of American politics that two men on the street or in the halls of Congress can indulge in the most acrimonious debate and five minutes later be slapping each other on the back over a funny story. This is in sharp contrast with the melees that occur in the legislative chambers of some foreign countries.

Self-control and recognition of the right of the majority to rule are the real reasons for the success of democracy in the United States and lack of them the cause of democracy's failure in certain other countries.

SOVIETISM A FAILURE

The Russian Soviet government has representatives in all foreign countries, including the United States, it is said, trying to convert the people to the Soviet plan of government. Russia could feed a large portion of the world, but after seven years of Soviet rule that great country is buying grain from the United States while 6,000,000 Russians in the lower Volga are facing starvation.

Russia was to be Utopia under the Soviet rule, but seven years should be sufficient to demonstrate that Sovietism is not a success. The Communist's charge is that America is capitalistic, yet the products of the farms in the United States for 1924 were worth nine and a half billion dollars, and there is less suffering, more prosperity and greater freedom here than in any nation in the world. Russia, as compared with the United States, is living in a by-gone age. Any people less backward would long since have rejected as a failure the venture into communism.

OPPORTUNITIES GREAT

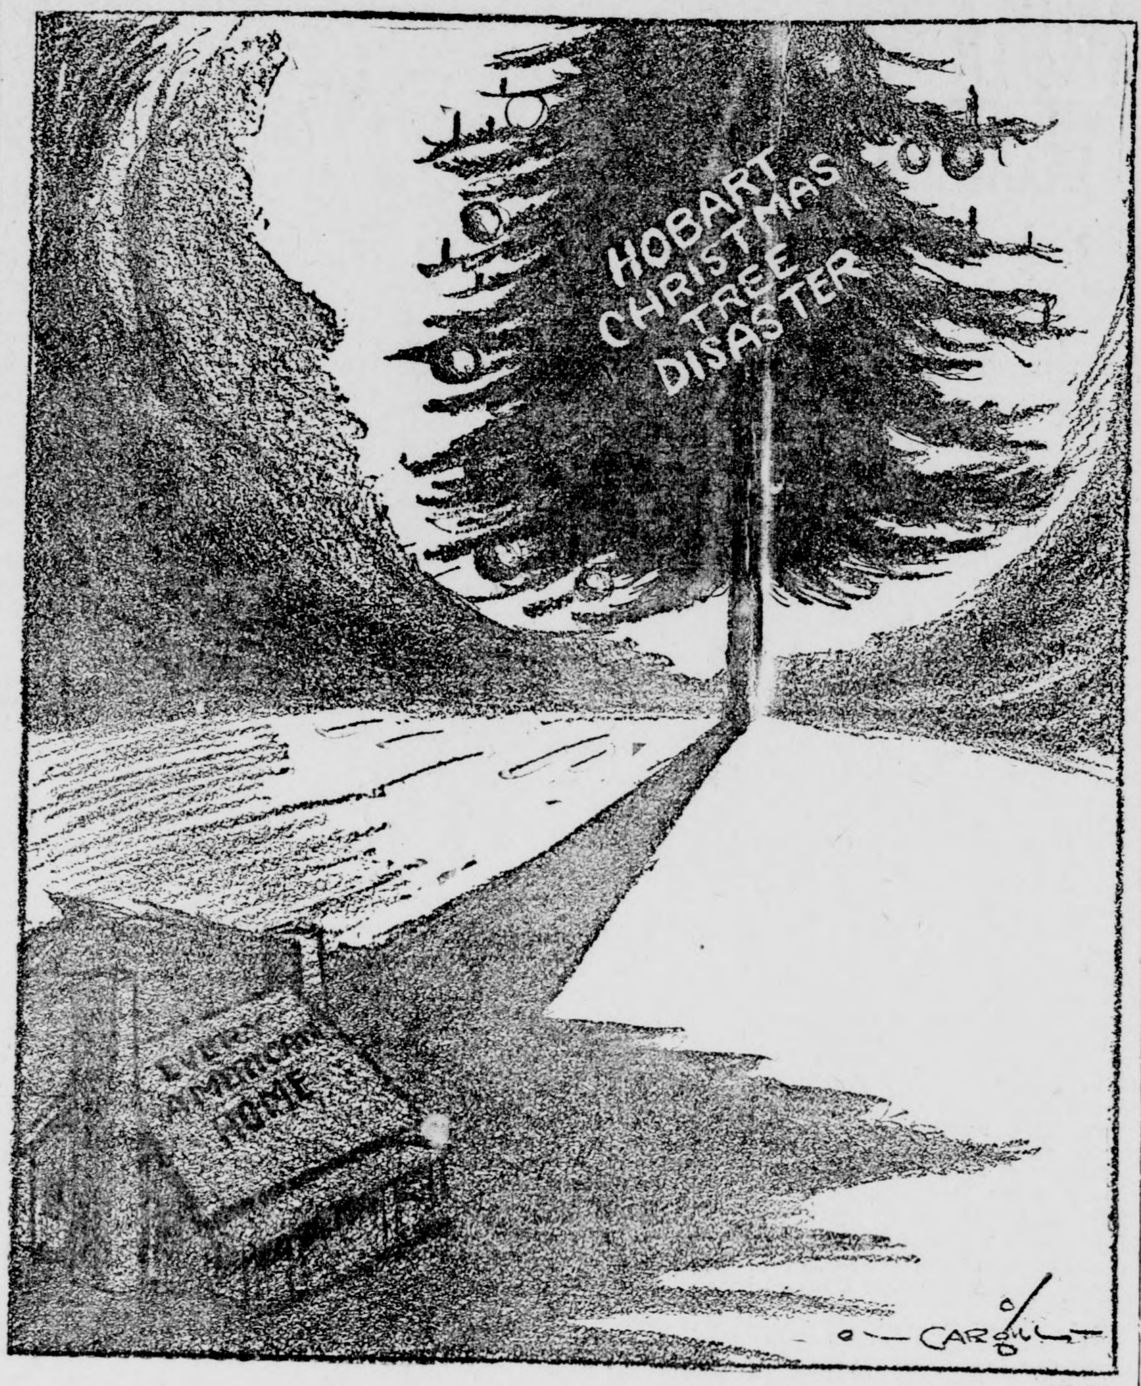
Young men sometimes think there are no more opportunities, no chance to do the big things, that the days of romance and adventure are all in the past and the times of Hill and Harriman no more. James J. Hill opened up a rich corner of the American continent with the Great Northern railroad and well deserves his title of empire builder. Harriman, too, made industrial conquests by the way of railroads. But the days of American industrial progress are not ended, for two young men in Ohio, the Van Sweringens, are combining a string of railroads, ten thousand miles of them, in a single, huge, workable system. The Van Sweringens began their careers as dealers in suburban real estate. They purchased the Nickel Plate to build a terminal for an electric line in Cleveland to take people to their subdivision, and they soon learned that there are still opportunities for adventure in the railroad world.

If we'll open our hearts and our homes to God, the sun and the wind, we won't have to open them so often to the doctor.

Self-preservation is the first law of nature, but, like so many laws, it isn't enforced.

All hard boiled eggs are yellow inside.

THE SHADOW!



Man and Institution

By DR. FRANK CRANE

I was walking through a great church the other day that is in the process of erection. It was a magnificent edifice. Into it already had gone millions of dollars, and millions more are being asked for. It will be a great moment when it is finished.

In the unfinished structure, in one corner of it, a preacher was holding forth. He was a small man, with a small voice, and was surrounded by a little crowd of listeners. He made a small ripple in a great pool.

Who this preacher was and what he said makes very little difference. The big thing was the church. The institution overshadowed the personality.

As civilization grows, institutions are created and grow larger and larger by accretion. By the same token, men grow smaller and smaller.

Out in Kansas they don't have cathedrals, nor many great institutions, but men grow loose out in the open, and they come to a considerable size.

An institution may be a good thing for the race, and a good thing to perpetuate certain ideas, but it is not a very good thing for individuals to grow up in it. They are apt to come up small and runty, like plants grown in a cellar.

Institutions only hold their sway because the majority of the people are small anyhow, and they want a chance, not for opportunity, but to be protected. This is a cold and cruel world, and it is quite a comfort to feel that between us and it are the protecting arms of an institution.

Of course, a man can grow to what size he will anywhere, but his growth largely depends upon the elements of opposition and upon the amount of live force within him. Always the best part of the human race is being ejected from his establishments, and the tendency has always been to go west.

America, Australia, New Zealand and the like have been built up by younger sons, by those who could find no place in the established institutions of the older civilizations.

Horoscope

Many planetary influences are noticeable today, according to astrology, and they conflict in ways not altogether favorable to the inhabitants of Earth. Although Venus and the Sun are in benefic aspect, Mars and Uranus are adverse.

Women should benefit under this configuration, which promises success to those who make an effort to achieve their highest ambitions, social as well as financial.

It is a time to seek the companionship of the wealthy and powerful, for they will be inclined to extend favors.

There is a fortunate rule for those who woo and those who wed, and again the seers foretell an uncommon craving for romance among young and old.

All social affairs are well directed today, the planetary influences making for gayety, sympathy and light-heartedness.

This is to be a year of supreme importance in educational affairs, for there will be progress made along practical lines and many endowments. A radio university or a novel venture that is extremely modern is indicated.

Mars today may disturb the poise of temperamental persons who may precipitate domestic scenes.

Under this direction of the stars misapprehensions and misunderstandings are easily precipitated and there should be an extra effort to maintain an equable temper.

Owing to the sinister influence of Uranus there may be a spirit of discontent at this time many blessings should assure a serene outlook on life.

Opposition to new religious movements is foreshadowed and this will merely increase interest in spiritual healing, the power of prayer and other beliefs, the seers declare.

Spiritism is to have a great impetus and will be widely investigated by scientists, among whom will be convents, it is foretold.

The power of the human mind, also, is to be realized as never before and there will be extremes of human purpose manifested in the next twelve months.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the forecasts of a successful year. It will be well not to make any changes in place of residence or location of business.

Children born on this day may be high strung and inclined to restlessness, but these subjects of Capricorn usually have extraordinary intellectual gifts and attain supreme success.

Today's Poem

ABOU BEN ADHEM

Abou Ben Adhem (may his tribe increase!)
Awoke one night from a deep dream of peace,
And saw within the moonlight of his room,
Making it rich, and like a lily in bloom,
An angel, writing in a book of gold;
Exceeding peace had made Ben Adhem bold,
And to the presence in the room he said,
"What writest thou?" the vision raised its head,
And with a look made all of sweet accord
Answer'd, "The names of those who love the Lord."
"And is mine one?" said Abou. "Nay, not so,"
Replied the angel. Abou spoke more low,
But cheerily still; and said, "I pray thee, then,
Write me as one that loves his fellowmen."
The angel wrote and vanish'd. The next night
It came again, with a great wakening light,
And show'd the names whom love of God had bless'd,
And, lo Ben Adhem's name led all the rest.

—Leigh Hunt.

The Best of Advice

By CLARK KINNARD

It is a wondrous age in which we live. An inventor announces that he has perfected a device that makes "seeing" by radio possible and practical, and the world accepts the statement without scepticism, for it is an era when seemingly nothing is impossible.

But, with all the striking external evidence of progress, is Society advancing?

Emerson contended that society never advances. "It recedes as fast on one side as it gains on the other. Its progress is only apparent, like the workers of a treadmill. It undergoes continual changes; it is barbarous, it is civilized, it is christianized, it is rich, it is scientific; but this change is not amelioration. For every thing that is given, something is taken. Society acquires new arts and loses old instincts."

As Emerson opined, "The civilized man has built a coach, but has lost the use of his feet. He is supported on crutches, but loses so much support of the muscle. He has a fine Swiss watch, but he has lost the skill to tell the hour by the sun. A Greenwich nautical almanac he has, and so, being sure of the information when he wants it, the man in the street does not know a star in the sky. The solstice he does not observe; the equinox he knows as little; and the whole bright calendar of the year is without a dial in his mind. His notebooks impair his memory; his insurance office increases his carelessness; and it may be a question whether machinery does not encumber; whether we have not lost by refinement some energy, by a Christianity intrenched in establishments and forms, some vigor of wild virtue. For every stoicism there was a stoic; but in Christendom where is the Christian?"

No greater men are now than ever were.

Emerson observed that a singular equality may be seen between the great men of the first and of the last ages. "Nor can all the science, art, religion and philosophy of this century avail to educate greater men than Plutarch's heroes, three or four and twenty centuries ago.

The arts and inventions of each period are only its costume, and do not invigorate men, he averred.

Hudson and Behring accomplished so much in Arctic exploration in their fishing boats as to astonish Perry and Franklin, whose equipment exhausted the resources of science and art of their time. Galileo, with an opera glass, discovered a more splendid series of facts about the world than any one since.

We reckoned the improvements of the art of war among the triumphs of science, and yet Napoleon conquered Europe by the bivouac, which consisted of falling back on human valor and disencumbering it of all aids.

Emerson compared society to a wave. The wave moves onward but the water of which it is composed does not. Its unity is only phenomenal. The persons who make up the nation today, next day die, and their experience with them.

Deputy Sheriff Holds Sweetheart Prisoner

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—Love-maddened when the girl upon whom he had bestowed his affections jilted him, Deputy Sheriff Eric Mason held his sweetheart, three other deputies and apartment house owner and his wife prisoners at the point of a gun in a Union Square apartment house New Year's eve for more than an hour, it was revealed.

Through the efforts of officials of the sheriff's office to hush the affair it did not become known until Mason's resignation was accepted by his superiors. Mason is under arrest at the county jail and an insanity complaint may be filed against him, it was said.

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

REDUCING LESSON NO. 2

The Shrinking Stomach

Today is your second day of shrinking the stomach, the most efficient method of beginning a reducing regime.

The reason? This. If you are overweight your stomach is oversized and distended because you have long been taking too large an amount of food for your needs. (When I refer to the stomach I mean the inside organ which receives the food after it has been swallowed, not the frontal prominence you, perhaps, are thinking of. Prominent or not prominent, that is the abdomen and not the stomach). Now this does not mean that you have been gluttonous. Maybe you have been, but not necessarily so. It simply means that you have every day eaten a little more than you needed else there wouldn't have been any to store as fat. Obvious, isn't it?

When you have tried to diet before and have eaten a small amount, the cavernous spaces have cried out for more because the stomach is an affectionate sort of an organ and likes to cuddle its food on all sides. Now you are contracting said stomach so that when you give it food sufficient for your needs, it is going to be happy and desist in its pleading for more.

In the three-day low calorie period (approximately 600 calories a day) I promise you that your stomach will be thoroughly trained so that when you go on 1200 C.'s a day, which is low enough to reduce the average person about two pounds a week, it will be grateful.

This shrinking stomach period has other fine results besides that of helping you to control your appetite. You will get rid of a lot of poisons you have accumulated from an excess of food for your needs, and you will immediately feel much better from that and —ecstasy!—you will lose five to ten pounds in weight. This will give you such a glorious start that a ten-ton truck could not draw you back.

The loss will not be all fat. Part of it will be the excess fluids that have been retained in the system on account of the excess food, and the scale may run up a trifle when you go on 1200 C.'s; but at least two-thirds of the weight will stay off, and on 1200 C.'s you will gradually lose more. (I'm going to tell you about calories—don't worry if you don't understand them now).

I am going to put you on 1200 C.'s—unless you are very tall or very short. If you are very tall, you can have as high as 1500, but if you are very short you will probably have to go as low as 1000 C.'s. This number of calories is probably 1000 less than the number you need, and your own stored fat will be called on to supply the deficiency. One pound of fat is equivalent to 4000 C.'s, so when you call upon your stored fat for 1000 C.'s, one-quarter of a pound will be used up. The 1000 or 1500 that you eat in food will supply, if rightly chosen, all of the elements your system needs, except some of its energy needs, which your stored fat is going to help supply.

RULE FOR FINDING IDEAL ADULT NET WEIGHT—

Multiply number of inches over five feet in height, without shoes, by 5½. Add 110. If under five feet, multiply number of inches under by 5½ and subtract from 110. In other words, if you are five feet tall you may weigh 110 pounds, and for every inch over or under you are allowed 5½ pounds more, or less, respectively.

You may vary five per cent below or above this ideal weight found by the rule. If your bones are heavy and massive, you may weigh a little above and still be normal weight; or if your bones are very small the reverse is true. This rule applies to both sexes.

Continue your shrinking until Monday. Then add 200 C.'s more in the form of two more slices of bread or toast or eight dates. (The detailed instructions for these low calorie days I ran on New Year's. Get the back paper if you missed them). In brief, it is your usual morning beverage and one slice of toast with a scraping of butter, and four glasses of orange juice or five glasses of skim or buttermilk for the rest of the day, taken at periods that suit you best. Between "meals" take one or two glasses of water. It is not fattening.

Don't forget you've signed the pledge.

Monday—Reducing Lesson No. III

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible; if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s.a.s.e., if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Chats On Beauty

By EDNA KENT FORBES

A "SLEEPLESS" CURE

Those who cannot sleep well at night cannot be good-looking. Lack of sleep means not only tired eyes and frazzled nerves but it means bad digestion and a poor skin. Even the hair will be affected by the general lowering of vitality and will hang limp and lustreless. If you don't believe the far-reaching calamities of sleepless nights, look at yourself in a mirror with the sun on your face after a period of sleeplessness, and then again after a few refreshing nights.

Thus I feel justified in putting here a hint about bringing on sleep when it seems about to elude you. I've tried it myself, I made it up; if it works for me it might work for someone else.

Before bedtime, if you feel nervously tired and not in a mood for sleeping, try these stretching exercises. Sit erect in your chair, bring your fists to your shoulders, the elbows slightly out, and stretch raising the chest as much as possible, tensing the arms as much as you can. Bend forward, stretching your muscles again, while the spine is slightly bent. You'll feel a pull all over the upper part of your body. Sit erect again and wriggle your shoulders slowly (sorry not to give these directions in a more dignified way, but wriggling is what I do). One arm goes forward and another back, and the "pull" is felt down each side over the ribs. Stretch out one leg, toe pointing, as hard as you can, then another.

The result will be that various sets of muscles and nerves that were tense with tiredness before are pulled and exercised and are now relaxed. Blood is running faster through the tiny veins that feed those nerves. You are less nervously tired, more physically tired. Now go to bed and read yourself to sleep with a funny story.

N. C. T.—There are so many causes for enlarged pores that it would be impossible to state what produced the condition in your case. Among the things to help refine the texture of such skins is the daily full warm bath all over, keeping all avenues of elimination clear, living on a balanced diet, and building up the whole general health by having enough exercise, air, and sleep. Enlarged pores are really overworked pores because some other avenues of elimination have been working sluggishly.

K. W.—Hollows in the neck behind the ears usually indicate a run down condition. A general building up all over will be all that is necessary to fill out these and all other hollows. There is nothing better than cod liver oil for this purpose. Local massage with nourishing oils will help but it would be too much to expect of it to fill out deep hollows when the whole system is in need of building up.

Reader—When using peroxide and ammonia for bleaching superfluous hair apply it two or three times a week directly after washing with soap and water.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question—The Editor.

Announcement

The engagement of Miss Marjorie Floy Bowers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Bowers of 827 East Colorado street, to Karl Pann of Riverside was announced today at a luncheon given at the Kopper Kettle tea room by Miss Lorraine Mitchell. Miss Bowers is a teacher in Columbus school, and Miss Mitchell, who is principal of the school, invited as guests members of the faculty, Mrs. B. C. Bowers and Mrs. Alexander Mitchell. Holiday decorations were used on the luncheon table. The announcement was made by individual favor cards at the places. After luncheon the party attended the performance of the Dobinson Players at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. No date has been set for the wedding. Mr. Pann is a senior at the University of California, Berkeley. Miss Mitchell invited for the affair Misses Bessie L. Aldrich, Margaret D. Ball, Elsie E. Church, Bessie M. Jeter, Sarah Yarnell, Leota Snyder, Anabel McClellan, Gertrude Kern, Adah Ruth Allen, Pauline Wigginton, Bertha I. Berry, Vesta D. Bigelow, Grace Gertrude Johnson, Ina M. Johnson, Mary Elizabeth Fall, Mesdames Jessie H. Hunt, Zella Robison, Mabel Cobel Nelson. Miss Bowers and her mother and Miss Mitchell and her mother completed the company.

Hear Evangelist

Mrs. Anna Bamford, an evangelist from London, England, was the speaker yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, held in the home of Mrs. C. A. Cole, 132 South Kenwood street. Mrs. Bamford gave personal experiences of her work, stating that conditions of countries abroad were very much worse than they are here. Mrs. Edythe Glassey, superintendent of the flower missions, gave a report on the work done by that department. Mrs. Creel conducted the devotional service, reading the Nineteenth Psalm, emphasizing prayer. The singing of "Standing On the Promises" by the audience, with Mrs. Cole at the piano, opened the meeting. Mrs. C. W. Bacon, president, presided at the business session. During the business hour a committee was appointed to arrange for an evening meeting on January 16, for the purpose of celebrating the eighteenth amendment. Mrs. Edith Dockeray, Mrs. Daugherty and Mrs. Creel were appointed on the committee to make arrangements. Mrs. Blackhurst sang "Oft When I Am Lonely" and "Out Where the West Begins," with Mrs. Floyd Mercer as accompanist. Refreshments were served later and a social time enjoyed.

Seek New Members

Plans for an intensive membership drive for the month of January, were made yesterday at the board meeting preceding the meeting of the Parliamentary Law Club of Glendale at the Public Library. Mrs. Harry Greenwalt, club president, points out that those joining now will have the advantage of a half-year rate and also of review work to be taken up. At the next meeting "Privilege Motions" will be considered. Mrs. Julia Phelps of Los Angeles, past president of the state W. C. T. U. will be the guest speaker.

College Friends

A company of young college students were dinner guests last night at Ard Eevin, the foothill home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Campbell. Daniel Campbell, Jr., was host, entertaining a group of his Stanford university friends, and other friends from the University of California and University of Southern California. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell were members of the company, which included the following: Misses Alice Elizabeth Myers, Carol Botsford, Josephine and Geraldine Franklin, Carrie Baillard, Helen Dosh, Kathleen Campbell, and Leo Fox, Arthur Tucker, Thomas McClellan, Mr. Meekin, Gerald Toll, Donald Cameron and Daniel Campbell, Jr.

Pythians Install

Installation of new officers of La Halla temple, No. 122, Pythian Sisters, took place at the meeting last night at the Knights of Pythias hall, corner of South Brand boulevard and Park avenue. The regular business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Mabel King, most excellent chief. Mrs. Viola Peters acted as installing officer. New officers installed were: Mrs. Melissa K. Dixon, most excellent chief; Blanche Willett, excellent senior; Amanda Scruggs, excellent junior; Elizabeth Haines, manager; Florence Johnson, mistress of finance; Urzella Joliffe, mistress of records and correspondence; Mary Morneau, guard; Antoinette Melzer, protector. A large number of members were present at the ceremonies, also visitors from Van Nuys and Los Angeles. After the installation refreshments were served by Mrs. Elizabeth Haines and Mrs. Florence Johnson and a social time enjoyed.

P. E. O. Hostess

Members of Chapter BA, P. E. O., met all day yesterday at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, 416 North Kenwood street. Mrs. Josephine Brant, president, conducted a business session in the morning. Luncheon was served at the noon hour by Mrs. Brown, assisted by Mesdames Helen Smith, Bess Jones and Minnie Fox. Drill on the federal Constitution was conducted by Mrs. Alice Carter. An interesting paper on "Egypt" was given by Mrs. Mary Lew Houston. Mrs. Houston spent a year in Egypt several years ago and her paper about the country, the Holy Land, customs and cities, proved very interesting and entertaining. Miss Dorothy Williams, of El Centro Chapter P. E. O. and formerly of Chapter BA, who is now teaching at Inglewood, was a visitor at the meeting. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Ida Noble at 327 North Jackson street, January 16.

A request has come in for the following:

Ladies' Knitted Scarf: This is generously wide, in a lacy openwork pattern, with a crocheted loop fringe. Buy two balls each of the shades called "muffin," "biscuit" and "gopher" in Iceland wool. Also obtain a pair of number six celluloid knitting needles and one number three celluloid crochet hook.

Beginning with the darkest shade of brown (the gopher) cast on 112 stitches. Follow pattern, always knitting first and last five stitches plain on every row for border.

Row One: Knit five, * purl three, knit three, and repeat from *, ending knit eight, three stitches belong to pattern and the last five to the border. Row two and row three are the same as row one.

Row Four: Knit five, * purl three, yarn over needle, slip one, knit two stitches together, drop stitch over the two stitches knitted together, then throw yarn over needle, and repeat from * to within five stitches of end, yarn over, knit five.

Row Five: Knit eight, * purl three, knit three, and repeat from *, ending knit five.

Rows six and seven are the same as row five.

Row Eight: Knit five, * yarn over, slip one, knit two together, drop the slip stitch over the two stitches knitted together, yarn over, purl three, and repeat from *, ending knit five.

Now simply repeat these eight rows for your pattern, throughout the entire scarf, making ten inches of the medium shade (muffin), and then twenty inches of the lightest shade (biscuit), followed by ten inches of medium again, and finished by ten inches of the gopher or darkest shade. This finishes the scarf. Bind off loosely.

Fringe: Join darkest shade in first stitch at one end of scarf, with slip stitch, * chain twenty-three in the sixth stitch from hook, work one slip stitch, to form a picot, chain seventeen skip one stitch on end of scarf, work one slip stitch in the next stitch and repeat from * across. Finish the other end of the scarf to correspond with this end.

There are many knitted scarfs with are sporty looking and cannot appropriately be worn with a dinner dress or any "dress-up" dress. But this scarf is dainty enough for evening wear and it is nice for the housekeeper to have one of this variety, which is not sporty, for just these occasions.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman, in care of the "Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use YOUR full name, street number, and the name of your city and state.—The Editor.

BUILDING FOR PAST YEAR IS RECORD

General Business Prosperity Foreseen for 1925 In Construction Work

By J. C. ROYLE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—The urge to "own your own home" has been translated into "build your own home," according to building material men. To substantiate this they point to the fact that the last year, even though it had periods of business depression, saw some $350,000,000 more spent in residential construction than 1923. In view of the prospects for a period of general business prosperity in the early months of this year they anticipate another period of great construction activity.

This will be fostered, they say, by the fact that the man with only a few thousand dollars to put into a house can now secure at small cost detailed plans and specifications prepared by competent architects through various house plan services, and can build a substantial, permanent home planned for both appearance and convenience.

Concrete Records

New records in the use of concrete masonry were hung up in 1924 and manufacturrs expect to break them again in 1925. More than 6,000 manufacturers now are engaged in making concrete products which in the new year will have a value of approximately $100,000,000, according to the Portland Cement association. About 392,700,000 standard size concrete blocks were turned out last year, and in the last 12 years, annual sales of these blocks alone have increased from $12,000,000 to $77,000,000. Development of one and two-family residences is largely responsible for this gain. For example, 238 residences of this type were built in one suburb of Miami, Florida, in the last year.

Block, building and roofing tile, brick and architectural stone accounted for 10,000,000 barrels of cement in 1924. Cement shipments were 10,000,000 barrels larger than in 1923. In spite of this fact stocks are two million barrels heavier than at the start of the year. This is in preparation for continuation of construction during the winter months and for a heavy spring demand.

Cement Prices Cut

Prices of cement, according to Morris Kind, president of the Hercules Cement corporation, have declined well below the level of 1920 and are only slightly above those of 1918, before the great boom in building developed. The decline from the peak price of 1920, 2.22½ cents a barrel, to the average for October, 1924, amounted to 37½ cents a barrel or 16 per cent.

Assertions that neither workmanship nor materials used in modern dwellings compares with those of 25 years ago are being emphatically refuted by builders and material men.

"It used to be that very large timbers were used in house construction," said John H. McClathery, a large builder of Philadelphia, today, "and it required large man power to put sills and beams in place. Then in the 1870's came the period of the 'balloon frame.' People were amzaed when they saw scantling nailed together to take the place of the cumbersome timbers and made dire predictions of collapse. But that innovation has stood the test

Aided by Science

"For years material was wasted and strength put where it was not needed. Construction today has been reduced to a science. The modern builder does not rely wholly on his own judgment. He calls in engineers and experts who study his problems and give practical advice as to materials and workmanship. This has given better results by obviating waste in both materials and labor.

"Problems of excavation, drainage, walls, foundations, roofs, plumbing, heating, pipe fitting, lighting, painting and interior decorating are worked out by experts who guarantee the results of their calculations to give satisfaction. Concrete and steel have simplified our problems. Make no mistake, the dwellings of today are superior in most respects to those of our fathers and grandfathers."

Congressman White In Divorce Scandal Case

ALPENA, Mich., Jan. 3.—Questioning in Congressman Frank D. White's divorce trial swung late today from the alleged indiscretions of his wife to the conduct of his secretary, Miss Jane L. Kennedy, called the star witness against Mrs. Scott. Under cross-examination Miss Kennedy denied she purchased liquor for parties in Washington, D. C. Counsel for Mrs. Scott dwelt at length on a trip from Washington to Alpena on which the Scotts and Miss Kennedy occupied a drawing room.

ANNUAL MEETING OF CHURCH HELD

Directors Elected, Reports Given Wednesday Night At Gospel Tabernacle

The annual meeting of the Gospel Tabernacle church was held Wednesday night when reports from the church officers were heard and members of the church board of directors were elected. J. F. Johannesen, treasurer, reported that receipts for the year were $23,000. D. E. Willetts, superintendent of the Sunday school, gave a report.

Newly-elected members of the board of directors are: I. N. Howe, C. M. Ross, F. A. Rand, James Robinson, L. W. Babcock, George Leicht, J. F. Johannesen, treasurer; J. W. Hosking, clerk; D. E. Willetts, Sunday school superintendent; J. C. Lenox, L. C. Rhyn and T. Wein.

After the business meeting a two-hour praise service was held, after which the Lord's Supper was observed. The last hour was spent in prayer and consecration in which many young people took part. Rev. C. H. Chrisman is pastor of the Gospel Tabernacle church and the congregation enjoys a spirit of unity and blessing.

Auto Licenses For '25 Placed On Sale Feb. 1

Applications for 1925 California automobile license plates will be taken by the Automobile Club of Southern California on and after February 1, according to an announcement made today by M. B. Towman, representative of the auto club. No applications will be accepted at the auto club offices here or elsewhere, until that time, Mr. Towman said. The club is acting on orders from the state motor vehicle department, according to Don Doig, head of the touring bureau, who notified Mr. Towman to enforce the regulation strictly in Glendale.

CHAIRMEN OF CAMPAGN NAMED

'Own Your Home' Movement Is Aided By Realty Boards Throughout State

The "Own Your Home" movement for the new year is well under way in many of the realty boards of California, according to Clifton J. Platt of Pasadena, chairman of the "Own Your Home" committee of the California Real Estate association. Mr. Platt has just returned from a tour of the state, calling upon realtors and everywhere he was assured of hearty cooperation. A home owning movement will receive widespread support, he was told, and in announcing the divisional chairmen for the boards, the state association has endeavored to secure willing workers.

In San Francisco, the "Own Your Home" campaign is in charge of Harry B. Allen, the well known home builder and subdivider who is president of the San Francisco board. Across the bay the chairman is Fred T. Wood, one of the big builders in the east bay region. At Berkeley the chairman is Austin W. Bailey, president of the board.

Howard N. Foss is in charge at Fresno, and at Bakersfield, Edward A. Kelly is at the helm. The Stockton chairman is Philemon H. Stitt, former president of the board while at Sacramento the leader is J. C. Carly. Others are: R. C. De Yoe, Carmel; Oscar Lord, Eureka; Frank A. Thompson, Modesto; Frank W. Aust, Palo Alto; John B. Kerwin, San Jose; R. F. Cross, Visalia.

Southern Members

In Southern California a large number of chairmen are yet to be appointed but the demand for place on the great statewide program is insistent. In Los Angeles the "Own Your Own Home" drive is in charge of C. E. Culberson of the Los Angeles Investment Co., one of the great home builders. In Pasadena Vergil J. Morris is the chairman, while at Long Beach, Fred L. Barker, the largest beach home builder is the chairman.

Stephen Barnson is the chairman at San Diego, and Asa Hoffman is chairman at Santa Ana. Frank C. Nye is named for Riverside and J. Clarence Preston for San Bernardino. Harold Callis will have charge at Santa Barbara. Samuel D. Koch, realtor of the Greater Santa Monica club is the Santa Monica bay chairman while Carroll J. Daly, charter member of the California Real Estate association is the Venice leader. At West Hollywood the chairman is Henry Hammer.

Other southern chairmen include: Chris Campbell, Alhambra; Bird V. Beebe, Anaheim; Presley B. Moore, Bell; H. A. Mortson, Beverly Hills; Earl S. Eastham, Culver City; Charles B. Guthrie, Glendale; J. H. Kibler, Hermosa Beach; James S. Candee, Huntington Park; Charles C. Reed, Lynwood; Alfred Murray, South Pasadena; A. M. Bright for the Southwest Realty board.

ARRANGE SERIES OF TEN SERMONS

Rev. Clifford A. Cole Will Describe 'Ten Plagues Of Modern Egypt'

Rev. Clifford A. Cole, pastor of Central Christian church, has arranged a special series of Sunday night sermons on "The Ten Plagues of Modern Egypt," the first of which he will present tomorrow night.

"I remember when I was in college," says Mr. Cole, "that the pastor of my church preached a series of sermons on this subject. It has been my ambition ever since to present such a series."

So after three months' preparation Mr. Cole will give this interesting series to members and friends of his congregation.

Subjects of the sermons as they will be preached consecutively on Sunday nights are: "Red Water, Dead Fish—Divorce, Its Dangers and Cure;" "Frogs—Amusements, the Subsidized Movies, a Vanishing Lord's Day;" "Parasites—Political Misrule, Municipal Graft;" "Flies—Corrupt Journalism, the Yellow Peril;" "Murrain—Race Hatred, Foreign Americans, Lynching," "Boils and Blains—Social Sins and Impurities;" "Hail and Fire—Holocaust, War and Rumors of War;" "Darkness—Murder, Self and Others;" "Locusts—Gambling, High and Low;" "The Crowning Plague."

The amount of linen goods from Czechoslovakia worn in the United States is twice that of a year ago.

Cuba's sugar crop of 1924-25 is expected to weigh 4,300,000 tons.

PROGRAM FOR REALTORS TO BE GIVEN

Gathering to Outline Work For Coming Season At Dallas Meeting

A national program for 1925 concerned with practically every phase of real estate activity will come before representatives of 505 real estate boards of the United States and Canada who will meet at Dallas, Texas, January 13 to 16 for the annual meeting of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

The following officers of the association for 1925, elected in the annual convention last June, will be formally installed into office: Charles G. Edwards, of New York, president; vice-presidents: Emerson W. Chaille, Indianapolis, Ind.; Edgar Allen, Jr., Richmond; John J. Hurst, Baltimore; J. J. Leddy, Ottawa, Ont.; Walter Lang, Manchester, N. H.; G. A. Nichols, Oklahoma City, Okla.; Fred E. Reed, Oakland, Calif.; A. R. Ritter, Portland, Ore.; Walter W. Rose, Orlando, Fla.; John D. White, Utica, New York; I. Shuler, Omaha, Neb.; new directors: J. C. Nichols, Kansas City; W. A. Smith, Houston; Benj. D. Watkins, Atlanta; B. P. Faast Eau Claire; W. A. Eggleston, Minneapolis; Chairmen of Divisions: Farm Lands Division, H. H. Richardson, Jacksonville, Fla.; Home Builders and Subdividers Division, Bert L. Clogston, Los Angeles; Industrial Property Division, Harrison S. Colburn, New York City; Mortgage and Finance Division, Frank Lincoln Johnson, Chicago; Property Management Division, Goodwin Gibson, Toronto, Ontairo; realtor secretaries division, J. L. Wallace, Jacksonville, Fla. A chairman for the brokers' division has not yet been elected.

Special cars starting from New York, Chicago, and Kansas City are planned to carry delegates to the convention from the eastern, middle western and central states.

Visit Kansas City

A special convention party headed by President-elect Edwards, will gather in New York. Real estate boards of New England, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania are invited to join this party. At Kansas City the eastern group will join a group of convention delegates from the territory tributary to Kansas City, with H. R. Ennis, president of the association through 1924, at their head. A stop-over at Kansas City is planned at the invitation of the Kansas City Real Estate board.

The Chicago Real Estate board has arranged for a convention special leaving Chicago the morning of January 12, which delegates from boards in the surrounding territory will join. Special entertainment has been arranged for the trip.

Round table meetings of the association's specialized divisions, the home builders and subdividers division, the mortgage and finance division, the industrial property division, the property management division, the farm lands division, the brokers division, and the realtor secretaries' division, will be held to consider the most important problems before men engaged in those branches of real estate activity. They will map out the central lines of action of the Divisions for the coming year.

Court Ruling On Leasehold Is Explained

A leasehold is property, and its cost and increase in value are properly capitals, according to a decision made by the board of tax appeals in relation to the federal income tax, according to the California Real Estate association. The board, in regard to Decision No. 72, held:

That a leasehold is property and its cost and increase in value prior to March 1, 1913 are properly capital. The owner of the leasehold is entitled to take deduction for exhaustion of such leasehold in the same manner as he would with any other exhaustible property.

That where the March 1, 1923 value of a leasehold is determined, and that value is used as the basis for computing gain on the sale of a lease, the taxpayer is entitled to take deductions for exhaustions on the same basis.

Bank Of England Head Due In United States

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The mission to the United States of Montagu Norman, governor of the Bank of England, has no official status so far as any negotiations between the British and American governments are concerned, it was stated officially at the White House. A spokesman for the president declared that while the purpose of Norman's visit was not known to this government, it was known that he has no business to take up with any federal authorities.

Rice Market Activity Liveliest Since Start

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 3.—The rice market is more active than at any time since it was established. Heavy sales of March contracts have been made at 6.81 cents a pound. There is active demand for all offerings. The spot market also is firm, with best grades of blue rose at 6 1-2 to 6 5-8 cents.

LEADER GIVES FAREWELL MESSAGE

President Of State Realtors Association Honored At Fresno Meeting

In his farewell message to the board of directors of the California Real Estate association meeting in Fresno today, President Everett A. White outlined the program of real estate activities under way at the close of his administration.

The list includes the following work in charge of committees and divisions:

Spreading the gospel of the realtor to all.
Farm land development.
Building up industries for all California cities.
Own your home movement by every board.
Legislation affecting real estate interests.
Appraisal program for boards.
Educating the broker and salesman.
Department to hold qualification tests.
Multiple listing for boards that desire it.
A bureau of information and research.
A survey of taxation.
More standard forms.
A greater magazine.
A greater news service.
More field work among our boards.
More board members throughout the state.
Budget and finances.
Take the realtor in earnest.

Tonight D. Richard Ainsley, the president-elect for 1925, will be inducted into office at a brilliant meeting in the Californian hotel. Representatives of fifty real estate boards will be in attendance. The oath of office will be administered to Preisdent Ainsley by State Real Estate Commissioner Edwin T. Keiser. Following the inaugural the second annual inaugural ball will be held. Three hundred realtors and their wives will be present. Caravans of

Conferences On Industry Are Planned

As a result of the great success of the first industrial conference of the California Real Estate association, an extensive campaign will be undertaken throughout California, mainly through regional conferences, to instill in the minds of realtors and others the importance of exhaustive study and research in the sale of industrial areas.

W. H. Daum, who is chairman of the industrial committee of the California Real Estate association, widely known as the man who has brought to this state many industries, plans to hold industrial conferences in Oakland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego, Sacramento and other cities early in the new year.

C. S. Knight of the California Development association, has urged the co-operation of the state association with the development association and Chambers of Commerce throughout California are co-operating with the realtors in the intelligent sale of industrial tracts in the state.

COMING MEET OF BUILDERS ANNOUNCED

National Association Of Builders Exchange To Convene In L. A.

Announcement has just been made by George L. Eastman, chairman of the executive committee of the official itinerary for the forthcoming fourteenth annual convention of the National Association of Builders' Exchanges to be held in Los Angeles February 23 to 27. Some two or three thousand delegates are expected with their families.

The special train bringing the visitors will be met by the reception committee at Riverside and is headed by C. E. Arbogast. It is at this point that the entertainment of the delegates will start, with a de luxe auto tour of Riverside, Redlands, Smiley Heights, Mt. Rubidoux and other points of interest. Luncheon will be served at the Mission Inn at Riverside. After viewing a few more places of interest the visitors will be brought to convention headquarters at the Biltmore hotel.

Will Visit Studio

During the night of the first day they will be taken to one of the larger studios, the name of which has not been made public.

A special night session will be held Tuesday, February 24, in addition to the regular sessions. Regular sessions will be held Wednesday in the morning and afternoon to be followed at night by the annual banquet.

Entertainment will be the order of the day Thursday, starting with a trip to the harbor and a ride on city boats. A stop will be made at the Southern California Yacht club for luncheon after which a caravan of autos will carry the visitors through Santa Ana and vicinity.

Crafts of the Los Angeles exchange will be hosts to delegates of their respective crafts and the women will be guests at a theatre party. The visitors leave Friday for San Francisco.

"When I was a youngster," said Jack, "I climbed up the hill to fetch a little water. I fell down, however, and broke my crown, which proved an object lesson to me when I built my home.

"Did I want to fall down building my home, with savings I have been accumulating all these years? Not by a jug full.

"Complete building plans selected at Bentley's was the first thing I procured, for they were my guide and protection.

"Bentley's recommended a good and reliable contractor to carry out the instructions of the plans.

"I was furnished Quality building material by the Bentley Lumber Co. together with Service that prevented costly delay.

"I have a wonderful, modern, beautiful home as the result of careful planning, quality material, good service, trustworthy, competent workmanship."

CHRYSLERS HAVE BIRTHDAY PARTY

Glendale Motor Car Co. to Celebrate Anniversary Of Automobile

A single candle on a birthday cake is gleaming in the window at 124 West Colorado boulevard. On Monday the Chrysler six will have rounded out its first year of existence and Lyman P. Clark is one of hundreds of other Chrysler dealers throughout the United States who is staging a birthday party.

For most of the public it is hard to believe that a year ago the Chrysler six was nothing more than a name. It is equally hard to believe that 32,000 Chrysler cars could have been built and shipped within so short a space of time. However, because these are facts, Mr. Clark feels that he has good reason to stage a celebration.

The outflow from the Chrysler plant to the public has totaled more than 32,000 cars. Over fifty millions of dollars have been paid by motor car owners for the product. These figures indicate that the Chrysler has outdistanced every first-year record that the industry has heretofore established. Music, refreshments, favors and a special display of Chrysler models will feature the local celebration. Mr. Clark says the public is cordially invited.

Photograph of Legion Float Work of Art

Glendalians are viewing with much admiration a tinted photograph, depicting the American Legion float in the Pasadena Tournament of Roses parade, which is on exhibition today at The Glendale Evening News. The picture was presented last night to Glendale Post No. 127 by P. H. Hubbard, proprietor of the Hub Pharmacy, 259 South Glendale avenue.

The photograph is 16 by 24 inches in size. The photography and tinting are the work of The Little Art Shop, 446 West Wilson avenue, Paul J. Kugler, proprietor. Upon Mr. Kugler's instructions, the photograph and tinting were given preference over all other work at the shop, in order that the finished product might be ready for presentation at the meeting held last night. In sending his gift, Mr. Hubbard wrote:

"Glendale Post No. 127, American Legion:—It is my sincere wish that one of your first official acts will be to accept this picture as part of my contribution to the wonderful success of the Glendale American Legion float in the Tournament of Roses at Pasadena, January 1, 1925. It was a glorious victory. May there be many more."

LOS ANGELES

By Southland News Service.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—The name of Bloomquist had a mysterious attraction for Lillian Kathryn Bloomquist, according to testimony yesterday in the annulment suit of William L. Bloomquist. "She told me she married him simply for his name," Bloomquist's brother said. The case is under advisement today.

By a tie vote of 4 to 4, the City Council has failed to give the Salvation Army a permit to hold a parade on January 24, when Commander Evangeline Booth arrives here to attend the western congress of the Salvation Army. Councilman Criswell will return from Washington on January 10, and if he is in favor of the parade his vote will be sufficient to grant the permit.

Forms on which must be reported income earned during 1924 were mailed yesterday to 400,000 taxpayers in Southern California.

Tourist and passenger travel to Hawaii on liners plying from Los Angeles harbor is heavier at present than at any time in the history of the Los Angeles Steamship Co. More tourists than ever before are arriving here from the east with their tickets routed through to the islands.

A total of $2,143,602 passed through the office of the Los Angeles county clerk during 1924, a gain of more than $1,090,000 over 1923, it was announced today by County Clerk Lampton.

Firm Made First Top Seventy Years Ago

Rex auto tops, distributed by Southwestern Corporation, 201 Braun building, Los Angeles, and manufactured in Connersville, Ind., will be recalled by old-timers as having covered their buggies since 1854, and the precedent established over seventy years ago in assuming that the customer is always right and giving a guarantee of absolute satisfaction is carried out in the merchandising of auto tops. Rex tops can be installed in one day, and Rex enclosures can be installed in a few hours. Dealers are being appointed in all sections of Southern California and an extensive promotion campaign has been planned for 1925. Glendale Lacquer shop, 235 South Brand boulevard, rear, are distributors in this territory.

Harry James to Give Radio Talk on Bowling

The value of bowling and billiards as a guide to health will be described by Harry James in a radio lecture to be given over KNX, Hollywood, starting at 5:50 o'clock this afternoon. Mr. James will also describe the new Jensen's Recreation center, recently opened in Los Angeles, and proclaimed the most beautiful bowling center in Southern California. He will tell about the city bowling tournament now in progress with seventy-four teams competing.

Evening News Is Thanked By Postmaster Jackson

A. T. Cowan, publisher of The Glendale Evening News, is in receipt of the following self-explanatory communication from D. Ripley Jackson, Glendale postmaster:

"My dear Mr. Cowan—I wish to congratulate you upon your New Year's issue of The Glendale Evening News, and at this time I also wish to express to you my personal thanks and appreciation, also that of the postoffice force in general, for the publicity given our business during the year just closed. We have always received the most courteous treatment and co-operation from your representatives, and I feel that the postfoice has been placed on a business basis assisted very materially by this co-operation and publicity.

"The credit for the smooth operation and service to the public in this office is due to the organization operating the office. They have endeavored to meet the public courteously and I feel that the public has appreciated their spirit. Delays occur sometimes in handling the mail and mistakes will happen, but we desire to express to our patrons through your columns our sincere appreciation of the spirit shown by them. A pleasant word costs nothing and means a very great deal to postal workers, especially during the holidays, when they are worked to the limit.

"We have experienced no congestion during the Christmas season and have endeavored to render service to the patrons of this office, such as it is desired by the department to render, and is the wish of the people to receive.

"We desire to extend to yourself and the entire force our best wishes for a prosperous and happy new year.

"Sincerely yours,
"D. RIPLEY JACKSON,
"Postmaster."

GIBRALTAR FIRM PAYS DIVIDENDS

Finance Corporation Reflects Keen Business Ability In Management

Progress, undisputed ability and keen business judgment of those at the helm is shown in the cash dividend which was paid yesterday by the Gibraltar Finance corporation, the main office of which is located at 218 South Brand boulevard, Glendale, California. This quarterly dividend on the paid-up preferred stock of record on that date was made on a basis of 8 per cent per annum. Interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum was also paid on all partial payments that have been made on stock purchased under the very liberal partial-payment plan which this corporation is offering the public.

This dividend was paid out of earned profits. The ability to pay an earned dividend after operating scarcely three months is due to the concentrated efforts of the management, and the careful pursuit of well laid plans, formulated as a result of many years of practical experience. Every action of the corporation is planned by men who know. Any company is only as strong as the men behind it. A glance at the personnel of the officers and directors and also the advisory board of this corporation will convince the most skeptical that the affairs of the Gibraltar Finance corporation are in capable hands. The officers and directors, who are serving without compensation, include:

Officers, Directors

Marvin Smith, president:—Mr. Smith, who is the dynamo behind the machinery, is a real estate subdivider of prominence and has dealt extensively in real estate mortgages and trust deeds. His experience qualifies him as an excellent judge on all matters pertaining to a mortgage business. Len C. Davis, vice-president:—Mr. Davis is president of the Grand View Memorial Park and Mausoleum, which when completed will be one of the largest of its kind in the United States. He is a man of proven business ability and capable of exercising keen judgment in financial matters regardless of the magnitude. A. G. Smith, vice-president:—Mr. Smith is a well-known builder, extensive property owner, and apartment house and hotel operator. His wide experience in real estate and building eminently qualifies him as an excellent judge of values in which a mortgage company is concerned. George Farmer, secretary and treasurer:—Mr. Farmer is cashier of the Glendale State bank and is well known in banking circles in Southern California; Thomas G. Love, director, is a banker of note and was formerly director of several banking institutions of Illinois. He was formerly appraiser and inspector for a financial institution of that state, which dealt exclusively in real estate mortgages. J. E. Barney, director of the firm of Barney and Shook, is one of the leading realty firms of Glendale. His wide knowledge of real estate is of great value to the corporation. Harry Ellison, director, is manager of the Oakmont Country club, formerly connected with several banks in St. Louis, Mo.

Of utmost importance to any business institution is its advisory board, which is just what its name implies—a board that advises with and makes suggestions to the officers and directors of the company.

Advisory Board

An exceptionally strong advisory board is composed of the following men:

Joseph Fortunato, chairman, is president of the Glendale Tile & Mantel Co. James A. Apffel, president of the James A. Apffel Co., is the largest platinum jewelry manufacturer west of Chicago. Dr. James E. Eckles, prominent physician and surgeon of Glendale. Frank Salmacia, co-partner in the Glendale Music Co. Dr. Jack Anderson, eye, ear, nose and throat specialist of Glendale and a lecturer of some note. William Lawlor, Glendale representative of the Los Angeles Evening Herald. Dr. James Farrington, retired dentist and capitalist. W. L. Twining, president of the Glendale Realty Board and L. H. Myers of the realty firm, Twining & Myers of Glendale.

The varied experiences of the board of directors and the advisory board gives this corporation the benefit of knowledge that has been acquired through a period of many years and at no little cost to the men possessing it. They are a representative body of the most successful business men of Southern California.

These officers, in whose hands the reins of this corporation are placed, have indicated their confidence in it by personally subscribing $76,400.00 of the preferred stock. Many others in Southern California have also shown their confidence in the stock of the Gibraltar Finance corporation by purchasing blocks of various sizes. All of these investors, who include some of the most careful in this vicinity, investigated thoroughly the merits of the company before making their investments.

A limited amount of this stock is still available on the basis of two shares of preferred and one of common for $200. Eight per cent dividends are guaranteed on the preferred and the common participates in all surplus earnings. This may be purchased on either the cash or installment plan.

ORGANIZATION OF CHURCH SUNDAY

steps before organization. Letters were received and candidates for membership on profession or reprofession were interviewed and received.

The petition to the Los Angeles Presbytery for organization was signed by forty-three persons then present, to which will be added the names of other charter members Sunday at the organization of the church. Others who united with the church before the meeting of the Presbytery, January 11, will also have their names on the list.

Dr. Wadsworth expressed himself as highly gratified with the progress made and predicted a prosperous future for the church.

The first names to be affixed to the petition were those of Dr. Crigler, to whose insistence the organization of the Sunday school a year ago is due; Mr. and Mrs. David Black and Miss Esther Black, to whose devoted service the organization and maintenance of the school and the ultimate organization of the church itself is due.

Mayor Robinson Gives Greetings From City

Mayor Spencer Robinson, heading a delegation of Glendale people, gave greeting from Glendale last night at the dinner held at the City club, Los Angeles, honoring Ben F. Pearson, president of the Civic Music and Art association, who recently returned from abroad. The dinner was an event of the two days' conference being held on music, art and drama. There were 200 in attendance.

Included in the Glendale delegation were Mayor Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. George J. Lyons, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Baird, Mr. and Mrs. J. Arthur Myers, Mrs. Roy Ballagh, Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker, George Karr, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Butts, Mrs. Thompson, L. T. Rowley, R. E. Rowley, Mr. and Mrs. R. Ernest Tucker. Mr. Myers of Glendale led in community singing and directed a toy symphony, everyone present taking part by playing on a toy instrument. Mr. Tucker was in charge of the conference this morning on municipal support of music.

Glendalian Describes Air Flight Over City

W. S. Gamble of 125 West Los Feliz road, took his first aeroplane flight New Year's day, as a passenger with Roy Williams of Santa Monica. They flew over Glendale and, according to Mr. Gamble, he got a real bird's-eye view of the fastest growing city in America. Miss Marion Gamble spent New Year's eve at Santa Monica as a guest of Miss Martha Myers. Mr. Williams brought both women to Glendale by aeroplane and after the day in Glendale took Miss Myers back to her beach home.

CITY'S INDUSTRY TO BE CANVASSED

Commerce Body Prepares For General Survey as Map for Future Plants

advantages will be, Secretary Wood said, that with a survey completed, absolutely authentic data will be available to put before prospective firms who are looking for locations, so that the advantages of Glendale may readily be compared with those of other municipalities.

At present, much of the very necessary information which is sought by firms looking for locations is not available from any centralized source in Glendale. A few of the more common points of inquiry have become familiar to the Chamber of Commerce officials and others, but the great bulk of questions asked by the industrial scouts must needs remain unanswered until such time as the survey is completed and the actual facts set forth in logical order and thorough correctness.

The first operation will be the mailing of questionnaires to manufacturing plants, business concerns and others in Glendale. These questionnaires will cover a wide range of subjects and are designed to afford the great bulk of the information necessary to compile the survey, once they are filled out and returned.

A most important result of the survey will be more definite information as to the kind of industries for which Glendale is best fitted. Once it is determined that one kind of plant will have better opportunities here than another, it will be the object of the Chamber of Commerce to see that this plant and not the one which will derive the lesser benefit in Glendale is obtained.

Secretary Wood stressed the point that the survey itself will aid but little in actually influencing industries to come to Glendale. It will merely place at the disposal of those promoting Glendale as an industrial location valuable information which makes up necessary talking points when the manufacturer is approached.

Hardware Head Sees Better Business Ahead

Business will be better in 1925 than any time in history, according to G. H. Rohr, 237 South Verdugo road, manager of Layrite Hardwood Flooring Co., substantiating his statements by adding that his business prospects were so good that six men were added to his force this week.

Mr. Rohr's concern has been in business in Glendale two years and nearly all employes have been with him since he started, no employe having less than one year's service. Every man is a specialist in his branch, Mr. Rohr's theory being that a man can't be a "jack of all trades" and be proficient. The year finished for the company with 1100 jobs on the books. In appreciation of Mr. Rohr's leadership his employes presented him at Christmas with a sixty-dollar horn for his automobile. The sixteen experts employed by the firm are:

W. R. Farr, Elmer Farr, R. O. Hopkins, Bud Holmes, W. C. Watson, W. H. Wynigar, C. M. Thompson, W. W. Stovall, W. J. Little, J. M. Dorr, J. H. Keen, L. A. Kroninberg, Harry Hugo, William H. Ganz, W. J. Eden and M. B. Clannch.

THERE'S only one way to progress in this world—saving systematically, and investing wisely. Make this one of your 1925 resolutions right now. Hundreds of Glendale people have realized tremendous profits on the sale of property simply because they had the foresight and stick-to-itiveness to follow the principle of saving and investing.

Financial experts throughout the country are agreed that 1925 will witness one of the greatest eras of general prosperity that the country has ever known—prosperity that is positively based on normality in all lines of business—and that means permanency.

Will you be counted among those who, in 1926, are classed as having had the foresight to invest wisely in 1925? Thousands are coming to Southern California and Glendale, and property values are bound to increase during the months to come.

Presented on this page are the choice offerings of the leading realty dealers in Glendale—study them—then act.

ORDINANCE NO. 1029

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING ORDINANCE NO. 529, PASSED JANUARY 12, 1922, AND ENTITLED, "AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF GLENDALE, ESTABLISHING A RESIDENTIAL DISTRICT, AN INDUSTRIAL DISTRICT, AND FOUR COMMERCIAL DISTRICTS IN SAID CITY; REGULATING AND RESTRICTING THE LOCATION AND LOCATIONS OF AND THE MAINTENANCE AND CARRYING ON OF INDUSTRIES, TRADES, AND BUSINESSSES IN SAID CITY; PROVIDING FOR A 'RESIDENTIAL, INDUSTRIAL AND COMMERCIAL DISTRICT MAP' OF SAID CITY; PRESCRIBING THE PENALTY FOR THE VIOLATION HEREOF; AND REPEALING CERTAIN ORDINANCES," BY ADDING THERETO A NEW SECTION TO BE NUMBERED SECTION 4aa27.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF GLENDALE:

SECTION 1: That Ordinance No. 529 of the City of Glendale, passed January 12, 1922, and entitled, "An Ordinance of the City of Glendale Establishing a Residential District, an Industrial District, and Four Commercial Districts in said City; Regulating and Restricting the Location and Locations of and the Maintenance and Carrying on of Industries, Trades and Businesses in said City; Providing for a 'Residential, Industrial and Commercial District Map' of said City; Prescribing the Penalty for the Violation Hereof; and Repealing Certain Ordinances," is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to be numbered Section 4aa27 and to read as follows:

SECTION 4aa27: A Commercial District to be designated as Commercial District No. 81 is hereby created and established, which shall include all that part of the City of Glendale described as follows:

Lots 1 to 29, both inclusive, and Lots 78 to 85, both inclusive, of Tract No. 5948, as per map recorded in Book 106, Pages 38 and 39 of Maps, Records of Los Angeles County, California.

Said Commercial District is hereby excluded from the Residential District, and shall be subject to the same regulations and provisions in all respects as are set forth in this Ordinance No. 529 for Commercial Districts.

SECTION 2: The City Clerk shall certify to the passage of this ordinance and shall cause the same to be published once in the Glendale Evening News, the official newspaper of said City, and it shall take effect and be in force on the thirtieth day after its passage.

Passed by the Council of the City of Glendale on this 30th day of December, 1924.

SPENCER ROBINSON,
Mayor of the City of Glendale.

ATTEST:

A. J. VAN WIE,
City Clerk of the City of Glendale.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA,) COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES,) SS.
CITY OF GLENDALE.)

I, A. J. Van Wie, City Clerk of the City of Glendale, do hereby certify that the foregoing ordinance was passed by the Council of the City of Glendale at its regular meeting held on the 30th day of December, 1924, by the following vote, to-wit:

Ayes: Gilhuly, Kimlin, MacBain, Robinson.
Noes: Davis.
Absent: None.

A. J. VAN WIE,
City Clerk of the City of Glendale.
Jan. 3, 1925.

PUBLIC NOTICE

WHEREAS, The City Council of the City of Glendale, has heretofore by Ordinance No. 529, established certain Residential, Industrial and Commercial Districts in the City of Glendale; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to the provisions of Section 2, Article XV of the Charter of the City of Glendale, the Council upon its own motion did determine that the Commercial District established by said Ordinance No. 529, be amended and changed so as to include in said Commercial District, property particularly hereinafter described; and

WHEREAS, before any change can be made in said Commercial District it is necessary under said Section 2 of Article XV of the Charter of said City, and said Council has directed that public notice of a hearing upon said motion be given by the City Clerk by one publication in the official newsaper of said City, at least ten days before the time of such hearing.

NOW THEREFORE, and pursuant to the requirements of said Section 2, Article XV of the Charter of the City of Glendale, and the direction of said City Council,

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN

that at the hour of 10 o'clock A. M. of the 15th day of January, 1925 at the Council Chamber in the City of Glendale, a public hearing will be given and had on said proposed amendment or change of said Commercial District before the City Council; and FURTHER NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that at the hour of 7:30 P. M., of the 12th day of January, 1925, at the Council Chamber in the City of Glendale, a public hearing will be given and had on said proposed amendment or change before the City Planning Commission, when and where all persons having any objections to said amendment or change in said Commercial District, may appear before said City Council and said Planning Commission, and present any objection, or objections, which they may have to said proposed amendment or change in said Commercial District. Any person having an interest in any of the frontage of property which will be directly affected by said proposed amendment or change, may file with the City Clerk a written protest or objection to said proposed amendment or change in said Commercial District. Said protest must be filed not later than the hour set for hearing, when all protestants may appear at said hearing either in person or by counsel, and be heard in support of their protests or objecitons.

That property described and sought to be included in said Commercial District, is described as follows:

Lot 16 of Tract No. 5864 as per map recorded in Book 52, page 61 of Maps, Records of Los Angeles County, California.

The motion above referred to is on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale and is hereby referred to for further particulars.

This notice shall be published once in The Glendale Evening News, the official newspaper of said City, at least ten days before the date of the hearing hereinabove mentioned.

Dated January 2, 1925.

A. J. VAN WIE,
City Clerk of the City of Glendale.
Jan. 3, 1925.

People of Ceylon use only $208 worth of foreign toilet waters and perfumery and $416 worth of rouges and other cosmetics in a year, but spend more than $7,000 for talcum and toilet powders in that length of time.

Thirty-six states having state taxes on gasoline receive a total of $50,000,000 a year from that source.

The number of Indians in this country is believed to be as large as when Columbus discovered America.

Steel houses that may be erected in a day and at a cost of $1,500 each, have been perfected by a Glasgow man.

AND THAT CLEARS THAT MATTER UP

We sure had a dandy time during the holidays packing and moving four vanloads of household goods to Glendale, but our burden was made lighter by the care and courtesy of a Glendale van company. Believe us, folks, it's some job, but worth it to live in the finest city and climate in America. We are so tickled to be here that we are going to celebrate during the month of January and give all an opportunity to join in. Here's the idea.

SPECIAL ½ PRICE DURING JANUARY

If you are in need of fine dentistry, here is your opportunity to save your teeth and your money. For instance, a set of teeth as low as $5.00. Best set money can buy—one may pay up to $100 for (and worth it)—for $20. Other work at equally low prices. Remember this, you get good work and a square deal at this office. There is no charge or other obligation for examination. Here one month and we say: "Ask Our Patients Everywhere."

The Wrath To Come

CHAPTER XI

"It isn't argument, Grant," Stoneham observed, "but I see your point. To a certain extent it's convincing."

"Argument is not the infallible solution of any subject," Grant persisted, "any more than the brain is the only adjudicator. Take the hereafter, for instance. We all have a feeling that something of the sort exists. But argument with a non-believer would be impossible. We set too much store by our brains."

They had emerged into Broadway, with its medley of blazing lights, its throng of people, its indefinable but ever existent fascination. Grant stopped short and pulled his companion up as they watched a couple descend from an automobile and cross the pavement towards a famous supper place.

"Some one you know?" Stoneham enquired.

His companion nodded.

"Slightly. The man was at Monte Carlo, in attendance upon the Japanese Ambassador. Itash, his name is. The girl was one of the dancers at the Cafe de Paris. That's rather a coincidence seeing them here?"

"Why?"

"Because," Grant explained, "I very nearly got hold of some wonderful information from the young woman who used to be the sweetheart of Itash before he took up with this girl. How she got it from him I don't know, but she got it. She was half mad with jealousy and she sent for me. By the time I got there, though, Itash had made it up with her, and she would tell me nothing. Now—if one could only get hold of her now, there might be something doing."

Stoneham shrugged his shoulders.

"A Japanese diplomatist," he said, "even the youngsters, are not noted for their ingenuousness. I can't imagine that young man, Itash, as you call him, giving anything much away."

"Neither can I," Grant agreed, "but she was very positive, and she did tell me one or two things."

"Then if I were you," Stoneham suggested, "I should get in touch with her as quickly as possible. Send her a cable and tell her what's going on. She wouldn't be the first jealous woman who's saved or lost an empire."

They passed away from Broadway again and reached Grant's hotel. They sat in the sitting room, discussing plans till the small hours of the morning. Just as they were separating Stoneham put his arm round the other's shoulder.

"Grant, old fellow," he said, "I am with you right through this business. But there's just one thing I want to tell you before you go too far. We're on a loser. America will decide against the Pact. I saw a first forecast of the voting yesterday. The majority for rejecting the invitation was more than two to one."

"I should put it down as even less favorable than that," Grant replied. "And still I don't despair. I've a few more irons in the fire, Stoneham, than I've had time to tell you about yet. I've a capital fellow out in Japan, going on with the work I began. The British police patrols are on the scent of something there, and I paid rather an interesting visit to Archangel a few months ago. I'm not relying on our propaganda alone, Dan. Before that vote is taken in the Senate, I'm hoping to launch a thunderbolt or two from very unsuspected places. We've got to have the propaganda going, but don't you be surprised, old fellow, if, at any moment, I find you a new sort of fuel."

"We can do with it," his friend assured him. "These things that you are talking about concern chiefly the Limitation of Armaments Congress. I'm afraid a few surreptitious ships here and there won't have much effect on public opinion."

Grant smiled.

"You wait until the first of my thunderbolts is launched," he enjoined.

Grant met Cornelius Blunn on Fifth Avenue one morning a week or so later—Cornelius Blunn resplendent in a light grey suit, with a waistcoat cut very low, a carefully arranged white tie, white spats, and a white Homburg hat. He had the air of a man pleased with his appearance.

"Well, my young friend," he exclaimed, stopping Grant. "How goes it?"

"I think you are winning," was the frank reply.

"That's a sure thing," Blunn declared. "I mean, how do you amuse yourself?"

"Indifferently," Grant confessed. "Your accursed organizations are getting on my nerves."

"To tell you the truth, you're getting on mine a little," Blunn confided. "You know, I'm not thin-skinned, but you've been getting a trifle savage lately. I should very much dislike anything to happen to you, but it has been suggested to me once or twice that New York would be a healthier place without you."

"The old threat," Grant rejoined lightly. "By the bye, why shouldn't two play at that game? I look upon you as one of the greatest enemies to the world's peace at present existing. Why shouldn't I kill you?"

"Too risky, my young friend. You're not in touch with the criminal organization of this city, and to attempt anything of the sort yourself would be madness."

"I'm not so sure about the madness," Grant replied. "I think that I could prove justifiable homicide."

Blunn smiled.

"That's just your trouble," he expostulated. "You can't prove anything. You've got some very sound ideas in your head. You've insight all right. You can trace the natural sequence of events. But the trouble is you're short of facts."

"Perhaps I am," Grant acknowledged. "Perhaps I know a very little more than you imagine."

Blunn looked thoughtfully along the crowded pavement.

"I should hate very much to think that you did," he said. "It would leave me only one alternative."

THE GATEWAY

Now and then comes along one of those films of which it seems reasonable to say to everyone, "You can't afford to miss it." And that, as this reviewer believes, is most certainly the case with the Hobart Henley production, "So This Is Marriage," which comes to the Gateway Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

This picture, from the original story by Carey Wilson, is an ultra-modern one, dealing with the marital difficulties of Peter Marsh (Conrad Nagel) and Beth Marsh (Eleanor Boardman), and the influence of a bachelor student of books—and women—Daniel Rankin (Lew Cody).

The young wife is gay and frivolous. When Peter mildly protests against her extravagance, she retorts:

"Why don't you earn more money; other men do?

She finds comfort in the companionship of Rankin, and runs to his home for comfort when her husband has treated her roughly after hastily taking her from a restaurant where, after many previous experiences of the sort, he has heard her criticized for her extreme manner of dress, and her irresponsible ways.

Finding that Beth really loves her husband, Rankin shows her the error of her ways by reading to her from the Bible the story of David and Bath-Sheba. Mr. Henley tells this on the screen in natural colors by the Technicolor process, using hundreds of vividly garbed extras in the pageant and feasting scenes which form the amazingly beautiful background for the tale.

THE GLENDALE

"The Fight for Honor" concludes today at the Glendale Theatre. Sunday, Monday and Tuesday the feature is "Bread," from the novel of that name.

DOBINSON PLAYERS

"I Love You" will be presented tonight for the last time at the Tuesday Afternoon club theatre, and Glendale theatre-goers who have been intending to see this screamingly funny Dobinson Players production will have to see it tonight or not at all. Next week, starting Wednesday, a new play goes on, states Mrs. Florence Dobinson, the name to be announced later. The curtain rises tonight, as usual, at 8:15 o'clock.

As Jimmie Farnsworth, Joseph McManus, the feature player, gives the finest kind of a performance, looks the part of the gentlemanly aristocrat he portrays, and keeps the right tempo until the final curtain. His sofa scene with Louise is a scream. William H. Stephens as Brooks, the butler, whose encyclopaedic mind is a source of bewilderment to the others, is a treat. Mary Isabelle Alpaugh as Ruth, Jimmie's fiancee, whose thoughts of love are far different from Jimmie's, helps to keep the audience in a merry mood.

"I Love You" was written by William Le Baron, well known comedy playwright, and has for its theme: "Does propinquity cause love?" The answer to this question is the best offering of the Dobinson Players' season here.

THE T. D. & L.

"The Only Woman" concludes today at the T. D. & L. Theatre. Sunday, Monday and Tuesday the feature is Emerson Hough's "North of 36."

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND BRIGHTEYES PIGG

One day the telephone bell rang "tinkle-inkle-inkle," in the hollow stump bungalow where Uncle Wiggily lived. The rabbit gentleman was just going to hop out to look for an adventure.

"But first I shall see who that is telephoning," said Mr. Longears to Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy.

"As long as it isn't any of the bad chaps you'll be all right," the muskrat lady housekeeper said.

The Fox, the Wolf nor yet the Bob Cat would hardly dare call me up on the telephone," laughed the bunny. "Hello! Hello!" he spoke into the mouthpiece. "Who are you?"

Back came a little whistling, squeaky voice in answer, saying:

"I'm Brighteyes Pigg, the sister of Buddy. And will you please come to my party, Uncle Wiggily?"

"Why, of course, I'll come to your party, Brighteyes!" laughed the bunny gentleman. "Where is it and when is it?"

"It's going to be at my house just as soon as you get there," said Brighteyes.

"Then I'm coming right over," Uncle Wiggily promised. "I may have an adventure on the way."

However, he didn't, for nothing happened as he hopped through the snow, over the fields and past the woods to where the little guinea pig girl lived.

"How do you do, Mrs. Pigg," called Uncle Wiggily to the mother of Brighteyes, when the door was opened. "I've come to the party."

"Party! What party?" asked Mrs. Pigg in surprise.

"Why, Brighteyes telephoned me that she was having a party and asked me to come over," said the bunny.

"Dear me!" laughed Mrs. Pigg. "I'm afraid it's some of the pretending make-believe games that Brighteyes plays. I didn't hear anything about a party. But here she is," added Mrs. Pigg, as the little guinea pig girl came running down stairs.

"Oh, I'm so glad you came to my party, Uncle Wiggily!" she cried.

"What's this about a party?" asked her mother.

"It's just a party I'm going to have for me and Uncle Wiggily and nobody else—so there!" said Brighteyes. "I thought it up all by myself. It's a make-believe party, but we're going to have some real things to eat!"

"Are we? That's good," laughed Uncle Wiggily. "What are we going to eat, Brighteyes?"

"Strawberry custard pie, for one thing," said the little rabbit girl. "Come in the kitchen and I'll give you some."

"Brighteyes!" cried her mother. "You know we haven't any strawberry custard pie in the house!"

"Yes we have—make believe—this is it!" laughed Brighteyes. She ran out and scooped up a tin basin full of snow. "Here is the strawberry custard pie!" she said. And just then, around the corner of the house ran the Fuzzy Fox. He heard what the little guinea pig girl said about pie and the Fox growled:

"Give me that strawberry custard pie! I'll eat that and then I'll nibble you, Brighteyes!" With that the Fox, most impolitely, grabbed the tin basin of snow from the guinea pig girl, and took a big mouthful. But when he found he was only chewing on cold snow, which gave him the toothache, the Fox gave a howl, dropped the basin and cried, as he ran away: "Fooled again! Fooled again! Oh, when shall I have some ears to nibble!"

Then Brighteyes laughed, and so did Uncle Wiggily, and Mrs. Pigg made a hasty pudding for the little make-believe party, so, after all, there was something good to eat. And if the piano does'nt try to hide in the keyhole when the iceman wants it to play tag, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Jillie's trap.

FROM EAGLE ROCK

EAGLE ROCK, Jan. 3.—The newly organized Credit Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce will meet for luncheon Monday, January 5, at the Black Cat tea room, announces C. W. Young. One of the most important projects of the new year will be a drive for members, he states, the aim of the bureau being to supply credit information at the lowest possible cost.

The proceeds from the presentation of "The Bird's Christmas Carol," given last Saturday night by the high school girls of the Congregational church, will go toward payment of a piano for the high school and college departments of the church school, states Mrs. A. E. Arbogast.

The following are some of the books recently added to the shelves of the Eagle Rock branch, Los Angeles Public Library, announces Mrs. Blanche A. Gardiner, librarian.

Barrie, "Courage"; Burke, "Wind and the Rain"; Clemens, "Mark Twain's Autobiography"; Dark, "W. S. Gilbert—His Life and Work"; Galsworthy, "The Forest; A Play"; Lagerhof, "Marbacka"; Lewishon, "Up Stream"; Morley, "Modern Essays"; Mosher, "Complete Course in Public Speaking"; Overton, "Cargoes and Cruises"; Sharp, "Magical Chance"; Tugenev, "Plays"; Wilkinson, "Contemporary Poetry"; Wright, "Small House and Large Gardens."

Several burglaries have been staged in Eagle Rock during the past few days, due no doubt to the fact that many people are absent from their homes at this season. Among those victimized were R. S. McFarlane, 4713 Townsend avenue whose house was entered through a side window and jewelry valued at $155 stolen. E. B. Sens, 4736 Vincent avenue was also visited by marauders.

Miss Bertha Shedd and Miss Louise Shedd are holiday guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Shedd of Colorado boulevard. They are students at Stanford university. The Misses Shedd are nieces of Secretary of the Navy Curtis Wilbur and daughters of Rev. W. A. Shedd, noted missionary worker in Persia.

With the housing crisis in Paris still acute, the only apartments to let are magnificent suites for which fantastic rentals are demanded.

LOUIS KAPLAN IS CROWNED CHAMP

Meriden, Conn., Scrapper Wins Featherweight Title At Madison Square

By FORD FRICK
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Swish! Bang! Biff! Smash! That's the drive of Kid Kaplan against battered human flesh. "Whoop! Whoop! Hooray!" That's the cheers of a maddened Meriden, Conn., section of rooters honoring their new champion.

Louis (Kid) Kaplan last night drove himself into a featherweight championship with vicious rights and lefts that bounded and beat off the defenseless body of Danny Kramer like rising breakers against storm-swept rocks.

For eight rounds Kaplan swung and swung and swung. For eight rounds Kramer stood up to the punishment, his face battered and bleeding with his right eye cut to a pulp, his nose and ears spurting blood.

Ends In Ninth

Each round, it seemed that it must end; each second the Philadelphian staggered and wobbled and tottered like an oak before the axe of a master woodsman. But still he kept his feet, fighting blindly with the instinct of a bull dog that knows no defeat but oblivion.

The fans, standing on their chairs like wolves howling for a kill, sickened at the massacre. But still the battlers fought on and still Kaplan's fists flew like driving pistons, carrying him on to a championship.

Then in the ninth the end came. Out of Kramer's corner a towel came hurtling—a towel stained and reddened with the blood of the battler who stood in mid-ring, too dazed to know what had happened; too dazed to realize that a generous second had brought merciful surcease from punishment that seemed endless.

SAVES CRIPPLED BOY FROM DEATH

Harry Malarkey, Glendale, Aids In Rescue of Youth Slowly Freezing

Harry Malarkey of 326 West Doran street, who, with his father, S. H. Malarkey, president of the Black Rock Petroleum Co., left shortly before Christmas for Farmington, N. M., assisted in the rescue of a crippled boy in the heavy snow covering that section. The story of the rescue has just reached Glendale.

A stage driver had found a man almost frozen, lying in the heavy snows, several miles from Farmington. He picked the unconscious man up and brought him into Farmington. With Mr. Malarkey they gave the man every care, and when he was recovered he told them that he and his crippled son were stalled in their automobile in the heavy snow. The father had left the car and walked through the snow, from one to three feet deep, for sixteen miles, when he fell exhausted.

Locate Youth

Upon hearing the story Mr. Malarkey and the stage driver set out through the snow to find the stranded car and crippled boy. When they located the boy he was almost dead. They hurried him back to Farmington. Upon arriving they found the thermometer registering twenty-eight degrees below zero. The boy was revived, although his rescuers state that when they found him they thought him about dead.

Entertain Missouri Friends on New Year's

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh R. Cawthon of 1229½ South Glendale avenue entertained a group of Missouri friends at dinner New Year's day. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hopkins of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. James E. King and son Barton and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Gates of Glendale. Mr. and Mrs. Cawthon formerly resided in Kennet, Mo.

Tilt Between Bears, Irish Is Possible

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3. Although Coach Knute Rockne emphatically declared before leaving Pasadena that Notre Dame would play no other post-season game on the Pacific coast this season, talk persisted here today that an effort would be made to have the "four horsemen" gallop against California here January 10. Graduate Manager Nichols of California admitted he was to see Rockne on the latter's arrival here tonight. The Notre Dame team is scheduled to spend Sunday here and at that time strong alumni pressure is expected to be brought to bear on both institutions to sanction the encounter.

SPORTDOM ALL OVER

By JOSEPH L. KELLEY
Of The Evening News Staff.

Joseph L. Kelley

More grandmothers and mothers-in-law will pass to the great beyond than at any World Series time if this talk about Irishmen meeting Golden Bears means anything. State will have to declare legal holiday on day of game. Either State will have to take initiative or office and general help will. Both Bears and Cardinals remember that 20-20 tie battle fought at Berkeley last fall. Both think they have best team. This talked-of Notre Dame-Bears tilt would settle that argument like Allies settled Kaiser. As far as we're concerned Stanford can play rings around Bears, that tie notwithstanding.

Rockne's Irishmen would find Bears far easier nut to crack than they found Cardinals. They wouldn't have an Ernie Nevers to worry them blue in face with 200 pounds of plunging ability. The only real opposition Irishmen would find—and it would be real opposition—would be Andy Smith. Horrell, of course, would be felt out—if Nevers couldn't turn trick, we doubt if Horrell could, despite Walter Camp's placing him above Nevers.

We haven't seen list of casualties from New York's hilarity but there must have been goodly amount of stuff that makes one throw bricks at his grandmother. One imbiber reported he soaked enough ether from New Year's supply to float Shenandoah.

Snailing way back from Pasadena's Rose Bowl, New Year's over Flintridge route to "wild" Hollywood our gas eater locked horns with open Pierce Arrow of E. L. Doheny, oil magnate. With all his oil E. L. couldn't move any faster in his Pierce than we could in our ancient Ford. These Irish football games are great levelers. But oil king was sporting Notre Dame banner. He could afford to overlook lots of inconveniences.

Standing outside entrance to Cardinals' side of Rose Bowl, four "scalpers" thinking we looked likely "pickings" asked small sum of $40 per pair for seats. We wished them luck but said we wanted to see football game not Wall street.

"Scalpers" only asked $4 and $5 smackers for $1.50 seats. Give them argument they would come back with—"Well we paid three bucks apiece for 'em." Couldn't argue with that guy. Anyone who can tell 'em like that is impregnable to all reason. He should sell bombs in Russia.

Five-dollar seats were selling for $10 and $15 along "scalpers'" row. They got it too. If there was Irish-Stanford game every day we see where bootleggers league would lose a lot of members in good standing.

Irish didn't have quite the colorful settings provided for gang from Stanford but they made a lot of noise just the same. Cheerleader for Irish only came next to Nevers and Layden in honors. No jungle monkey could compete with that guy when it comes to contortions with feet and hands. He could make more moves standing still than a steam shovel.

We didn't see "One-Eye" Connoly crashing the gate. Last we heard of "One-Eye" he was sunning himself in Florida waiting for something big in sporting world to break so he could crash gate. He must have got sunstroke.

"One-Eye" had lot of competitors. Shortly after game started Notre Dame end of bowl not covered with seats was stormed by gang of rail birds. About 300 crashed fence and perched on cobblestones to view game.

Too bad college football loses the Four Horsemen. Knute Rockne next year will have to develop an entire new Irish team. He loses every member of first team, virtually every member of second team and some of third string by graduation and three-year ruling.

Four Horsemen have played together for four years. Wouldn't be surprised if some enterprising movie producer would sign 'em up to star in two reelers. They sure would guarantee fans action if shy on dramatic technique. Four Horsemen would be welcome diversion from sleek-haired sheiks now hogging screens.

Ed Thorp, brother of Tom, one-time Columbia star, and no relation to Jim, famous Carlisle grid star, handled the referee's job in fine shape. Walter Eckersall, one-time all-American quarter on Chicago U. now sports writer on Chicago Tribune, as head linesman kept track of feet and yards won and lost showing his usual pep in action.

May They Rest in Peace!

Funeral services for Mr. New Year Resolution, born January 1, 1925, and died January 3, will be held tomorrow afternoon. Friends will please omit flowers and sympathy. The deceased put up a hard struggle before he was overcome by that dreaded disease, Circumstances.

ART MURPHY

They died hard, did these New Year's resolutions, after a brief but busy two days. Born of good intentions, nourished the first day on strong determination, fighting for existence the second day on a mixture of "ought-to-keep-'em" and "what's-the-use" brand of medicine, they gave up the ghost today, too weak to continue the struggle.

Credit must be given, however, for the strong start they made in their short lives. All resolutions are strong and sturdy at the beginning, and take an optimistic view of the world in general, but the morale soon seeps out and once the morale is gone, there is nothing to support the shell of desire.

The vast army of circumstances constitutes the chief enemy. For instance, when Dad resolves to cut out using tobacco, particularly cigars, all his friends sent him choice Havanas and perfectos for Christmas and New Year's, and there is no use of letting perfectly good cigars dry out and become useless, you know.

No more bridge parties nor mah jongg sessions for mother, she resolved. No more catty remarks about her friends, either. Then she opened the morning mail. An invitation to a mah jongg party at the club. Mrs. Bowser was going to wear her Chinese creation and preside. First prize would be a beautiful parlor lamp.

Oh, well, there was no use wasting the money she spent learning the game from her Chinese laundryman and a parlor lamp would look real nice, provided the shade harmonized with the furniture. And Mrs. Bowser needn't be so stuck up over her Chinese creation; it came from the Chinese quarter in San Francisco and never saw China, either. When it comes to stepping out in high class rags, she would show 'em. She would wear the niftiest mah jongg suit she could find, if she had to cable China and have the queen, or whatever they have over there, send the royal robes back by airship.

Sister Sal, the ultra-flapper model of the family, decided two nights of stepping out each week would be enough, and she resolved to limit it to just two. But then, how was she to know that Horace had bought a new car, and how was she to know that the moon shines bright on the old Kentucky home? That crashing sound was not Horace's automobile in a smashup, it was just Sister Sal's resolution passing out with a bang. And now Sister Sal wishes there were eight nights in the week instead of only seven, which she finds fully occupied.

Brother Bill decided to become a woman hater, cynical, hard-boiled and all that. No more Shebas for him, women just made him sick, anyway. No, the party New Year's eve had nothing to do with the case, tra-la. He was offa 'em for life, and he doesn't mean maybe, perhaps or possibly.

A certain place, not a Southern California highway, is paved with good intentions, and Brother Bill contributed one perfectly good, square, solid, paving block. His sweet Sheba picked out the spot for the paving block when she got Bill on the telephone and induced Bill to invite her to the Eta Bita Pie hop the frat boys were planning for Friday night. Bill went, and this morning he was observed looking over the diamond stock in a local jewelry store and trying to get a good-looking ring on a dollar down and one buck a week for life. Us fellars just aint gotta a chance with women, that's all.

One thing you have to admit, these New Year's resolutions die hard. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon. Friends will please omit flowers. The remains will be cremated—to destroy any and all documentary evidence.

Only twelve states of this country do not have a gasoline tax.

San Francisco Greets Return of Long Bouts

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3.—Long-route boxing had an auspicious return to California last night. At Dreamland two six-round bouts were put on, in addition to the regular four-round encounters. In the main six-round bout Jack Silver, San Francisco, decisively outpointed Johnny Reissler, New York, and in the same number of rounds Tommy Cello took four from Eddie White.

Boxing Commissioner William Hanlon, acting Mayor McLearn and Police Chief Dan O'Brien were at the ringside. One of the largest crows ever held by Dreamland witnessed the return of the game.

CHAMPIONS MUST BATTLE IN STATE

Proposed Plan Of Boxing Commission Will Keep Fighters Busy

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 3.—Champion fighters who wish to be recognized as such in California must offer their entertainment in the arena rather than through the medium of the silver screen or the vaudeville stage. Such is the interpretation placed by promoters on the rulings of the new State Athletic commission.

While the commission's rules and regulations are still in course of preparation, the word has been passed out that one of the outstanding rules will be that a champion must defend his title in this state within a certain period.

The period of grace to be allowed champion glove wielders is a point still at issue. Gossip among the promoters who have had talkfests with the commissioners leads to the assumption that it will be notable for its brevity.

Plan Supervision

The dominant motive of the new boxing commissioners seems to be the exclusion of objectionable features of the game. Strict supervision of every fight is promised and the general impression in the statehouse is that the first fighter or manager who oversteps the bounds will receive such drastic treatment that repetitions will not occur.

Giving away weight is another matter frowned upon by the prize fight board. The rules, as now drafted, permit a difference in weight in the lighter divisions of only six pounds. There is little likelihood of the commission modifying the order.

Such classifications as junior lightweights and light heavyweights will be unknown under the present board, it having been determined to fix the divisions according to the Marquis of Queensbury rules.

Call Conference

Generally, it is reported, the rules and regulations of the California commission will closely follow those of the New York Boxing commission. Their exact nature will be told when the three commissioners meet here early this month with fighters, managers, seconds, doctors and promoters from all over the state to outline their plan of procedure.

Secretary Walter A. Yarwood, upon whose shoulders will fall the burden of much of the routine work, has established offices in the Plaza building here and is busily engaged in clearing up preliminaries so that regular permits may be issued within the near future.

now. So that crop is gone. Their only hope now rests in the crop of wheat, oats, rye and peas, which might ripen by next April were seed available now. It is now sowing time. For a great many small farmers who would plant but five acres in an ordinary year, it is a very serious problem to find seed for three. So the government has established a relief fund and organization to help all who most sorely need it.

Distribute Grain

"During these last few days I have had the privilege of helping in this grain distribution in one circle of six or eight villages. The organization was pretty well perfected when I was asked to help on one of the committees. The object was to make sure that the grain was actually and fairly distributed.

"The saddest part of their plight is the fact that so many are flat on their backs with malaria fever. It seemed as though half the village was stricken in many places. One could take pounds of quinine and spend days in going from village to village and home to home distributing it and do a great service to these people. We hope to do just this within a few days.

"India is on the move and things are happening every day almost that show the stirrings of the new life within her."

Question of Contract Is Still In Abeyance

LINCOLN Neb. Jan. 3.—Rue to the absence from the city of George Koster head of the State Boxing commission the scheduled hearing of the controversy between Pat O'Boyle of Omaha and Harry Reed of Lincoln regarding ownership of a manger's contract over Ace Hudkins, Nebraska lightweight boxing champion, was postponed until January 6. Hudkins is now in California, negotiating for bouts with leading coast lightweights.

O'Boyle, according to Reed's charges, did not pay him the full purchase price for the transfer of the contract.

ENGLISH STUCCO HOME

My wife and I planned and built this home for ourselves; it's not like the ordinary "built to sell' house. There are seven real rooms located on an exceptional East front lot in the Kenneth Hill section where most folks want to live; however, you can see more in a minute than I can tell you in a column here, so phone me if interested. Any reasonable terms to responsible buyer. Owner, Glendale 3581-J.

BEFORE BUYING a home let us show you a few of the artistic and well planned five and six-room Spanish and English type homes we have built and which can be duplicated for from $3000 to $5000. Have your home planned the way you want it and save from $1000 to $4000 also. B. W. Sherwood, Builders of over 200 homes in Glendale. Office 313 S. Brand Blvd. Phone Glendale 1426-W. HOLDS RECORD IN WIFE DESERTION

Woman States In Bill for Divorce Husband Left Her Sixteen Times

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Her husband abandoned her and their children on sixteen distinct occasions, alleges Mrs. Pearl E. O'Brien, who filed suit in the district court against Edmund J. O'Brien for a limited divorce and alimony.

Plaintiff also alleges non-support and cruelty and declares that on one occasion defendant "beat and choked her." They were married at Alexandria, Va., July 20, 1918, and have three children, whose custody is requested by the plaintiff.

First Steps Taken To Finance Soldier Bonus

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The first step in financing the soldiers' bonus, which will require $4,000,000,000 in 1945, has been taken. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon placed $100,000,000 worth of special treasury certificates in a sinking fund, which will draw interest for the next twenty years. Similar attempts will be made until a total of $2,000,000,000 is set aside for the bonus.

PLAN PROGRAM AT 1925 MEETING

Realtors To Outline Work For Coming Season At Dallas Convention

the divisions are: Devising some method of protecting the soundness of city growth in the case of subdivisions developed outside of the city limits, a growth now proceeding very rapidly in many American cities; devising best methods of financing home buying where there is a gap between the amount which the buyer can pay down and the amount that can be financed by a first mortgage; the location of new industries in cities best suited to their growth; reawakening of the farm land market in response to the bettered farm price situation; development of accurate property-management analysis of projected office and apartment buildings so as to measure in advance their probable net income; development of business methods to facilitate real estate transference.

Two important matters of organization to come before the delegate body will be: Final action on a proposed amendment to the constitution of the association modifying under certain conditions the present provision that only one real estate board can be elected to membership from any one city, and expression of opinion on a proposed amendment to the by-laws of the association so as to provide for reciprocal membership between the national association and the various existing state and provincial associations. Amendment to the by-laws requires action only by the board of directors, who will meet in connection with the annual meeting. A referendum of all boards is now being taken on the proposed amendment at the direction of the board of directors.

One Board Rule

The proposed modification of the association's one-board-to-a-city rule would apply only to cities of over 500,000 population. It would create a new type of member board to be called a district member board, to which classification would be eligible only boards in metropolitan areas serving a distinct political subdivision or separate community within the city. The main real estate board of such a metropolitan area, designated by the proposed amendment the general board, would be left jurisdiction over the entire city in the matter of codes of business ethics and rules of conduct.

Frank L. McNeny, of Dallas, is general chairman of arrangements for the meeting. Members of the Dallas board who will have charge of the entertainment of the visitors are J. W. Pat Murphy, reception committee; W. W. Fisher, registration; Leven Jester, entertainment; F. F. McNeny, banquet; Hugh H. Hoff, meeting halls; Lawrence Miller, inspection tours; Howard D. McElroy, autos; B. M. Lindsley, golf; Charles E. Turner, realtors' revue.

Rum Running Ships Lost With All Aboard

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—Reports from rum running circles that the liquor ships Malahat and Saucy Lass were lost with all hands off the Southern California coast during a violent storm, were seemingly confirmed when searchers failed to find any trace of the two vessels. It was reported from Santa Barbara that county authorties have seized 100 cases of liquor believed to have been landed from the Malahat a short time before it sank.

Rolled oats and oatmeal sent from this country to foreign lands in a year weigh at least 160,000,000 pounds.

FORESEES MENACE IN NATIONALISM

Shaw Predicts League's End In Great Britain's Policy On Egyptian Situation

By DAVID M. CHURCH,
For International News Service

LONDON, Jan. 3.—Emphatic nationalism threatens the world with war and more war, according to George Bernard Shaw.

Great Britain's action in Egypt, which Shaw declares has killed the League of Nations, means the return of "brute force" to take the place of internationalism in settling world affairs, according to the "Sage of Adelphi Terrace."

Egypt, says Shaw, is going to be forced by Great Britain to make an alliance, and one alliance will lead to another and alliances may lead to "first-class war."

Cites Example

"Suppose that Russia and China enter an alliance," said Shaw, "These two nations have a preponderance of man-power as the chief war material. These two nations are contiguous and are only separated by the wedge of India. It might be that at some time India would be unfriendly enough to Great Britain to enter into an alliance with Russia and China. There you would have an alliance that would be hard to beat. Such an alliance might determine the future of the world."

The alternate to nationalism, according to Shaw, is supernational authority or internationalism.

"The League of Nations, one venture in internationalism is now dead as a door nail, killed by our new British government," said Shaw. "I hope that it may rise out of its ashes, but it has been dealt a death blow and we may have to face just what we voted for in the last election—a first-class war.

"Our government has created a new style of political assassination. They declare that the Egyptian government 'allowed Sir Lee Stack to be murdered.' Then the British government allowed Sir Henry Wilson to be murdered in London.

Johnson Trouble

"'Pussyfoot' Johnson was stoned in London, lost his eye, nearly had his back broken, and narrowly escaped death. The British government 'allowed' this. What might an unfriendly American government not have demanded on account of Mr. Johnson's eye? But the United States themselves had 'allowed' President Garfield and President McKinley to be murdered and Tsarist Russia had 'allowed' Alexander the Second to be murdered. Yet, on second thought as these men were the heads of the governments of the countries in which they were killed, their deaths would no doubt be described by our present government as suicides.

"Our government makes it appear that most tremendous and much-to-be-desired political results can be achieved by driving someone to commit a political assassination. Lord Birkenhead, Lord Curzon and Mr. Churchill excited the same kind of feeling against Russia in this country that Egyptian agitators were accused of exciting against England. Suppose this ended—which God forbid—in the murder of the Russian Ambassador, then the British might get (if our example in Egypt were followed) what they voted for—a first-class war."

BURBANK NEWS

BURBANK, Jan. 3.—Burbank is much interested in the plans being worked out by Los Angeles and Glendale for relieving the congestion of San Fernando boulevard, by designating Lake street as a part of the proposed River Truck speedway. Plans have been approved by the Los Angeles Traffic commission, the Glendale Planning commission and the Regional Planning commission.

These organizations have also recommended that a road be laid from the southern end of Flower street to form a junction with the truck speedway at the Los Angeles boundary line, affording a better opportunity for the development of the industrial property that extends along the railroad.

Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Mullen of 269 Orange Grove avenue entertained relatives at dinner on New Year's day. Guests who were present included: Mr. and Mrs. E. Moniot, Mr. and Mrs. James Carpi, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Cole and their families, all of Glendale, and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Chambers and Mr. and Mrs. William Dixon and families of Burbank.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Farley of Truckee, who have been spending the holidays here, left today for their northern home. They had been visiting with Mr. Farley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Farley, and with Mrs. Farley's mother and brother, Mrs. Diss and A. S. Diss, of Orange Grove avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Sellers and family of Wenatchee, Washington, have arrived here to spend the winter in Southern California. They visited recently with Mrs. Ohmart of Orange Grove avenue.

Richard Gunnerson of the Ramsey apartments has just returned home from a business trip to San Francisco, where he spent several days.

E. A. WHITE GIVES FAREWELL SPEECH

realtors arrived from various parts of the state.

President Ainsley outlined his plans in a comprehensive address. He stressed farm lands, water conservation, industrial development, educating the realtor, own your own home movement, standard forms, legislation and cooperation with the state real estate department. He stressed the work of the association as being peculiarly beneficial to property interests. He declared that the association was planning a taxation investigation that would bring to California property owners the practical benefit of research work and recommendations of a fundamental nature.

Officers Report

The officers reported to the association that the affairs of the association were in a flourishing condition.

Several new boards were reported formed, and a large increase in members was announced. A delegation of members of the state association will attend the annual convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards to be held at Dallas, January 13 to 16.

The retiring president, Everett A. White, was presented with a beautiful watch by his fellow directors. The inaugural event will be in charge of the Fresno Realty board, Herbert Levy, chairman. It will be held in a beautiful ball room, amid the blue and gold colors of the state association.

Liquor Seized Minus Warrant Not Evidence

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 3.—The supreme court of Oregon handed down a decision yesterday that liquor seized without a search warrant, over the protest of the owner of the premises, cannot be used as evidence in court. The vote was 4 to 3 in reversing the decision of the lower court against F. M. McDaniel of Benton county, Oregon, charged with violation of the Volstead act.
